FREE PANAMA CANAL TOLLS KILLED BY BIG MAJORITY

PLAZA AND GRADY BONDS MAY GO BEFORE PEOPLE AT THE SAME ELECTION

Movement Is Started at Conference Between Mayor James G. Woodward and Representatives of the Three Newspapers of Atlanta on Tuesday Afternoon.

MAYOR FAVORS MAY 25 FOR PASSING ON BONDS AND COUNTY OFFICERS

County Executive Committee Will Hold Meeting on Friday Morning to Consider Change in Date. Council Will Hold Another Meeting This Afternoon.

Because of the almost unanimous sentiment favoring the issuance of $2,000,000 improvement bonds for building the plaza over Atlanta's unsightly "gulch," Mayor James G. Woodward yesterday launched a proposal to submit both the Grady hospital bond issue of $750,000 and the plaza bonds at one election.

Mayor Woodward's scheme is to have the county executive committee defer the county election from May 5 to May 25. At that time he hopes to have both bond issues submitted to the people for an expression. The bonds will be voted on by separate ballot, and it will be within the right of the voter to support one issue and reject the other or to vote for or against both.

Call Meeting Friday.

Judge Eugene Thomas, chairman of the county executive committee, who was present at the conference between Mayor Woodward and representatives of the newspapers—Clark Howell, Constitution; Keats Speed, Georgian and American, and James R. Gray, Journal—assured the mayor that he will call his committee together Friday morning. In the meantime the newspapers will interview the various candidates who will participate in the county election and will urge them to agree to the postponement of the election from May 5 to May 25.

"I don't think any candidate will object to putting back the date set for the election in order that the people may be given an opportunity of passing on these two most important civic projects," Mayor Woodward said. "In fact, I am certain that they will be only too willing to sacrifice their own personal desires in the interest of two projects which the people are interested in at this time."

County Chairman Thomas and other members of the conference agreed with the mayor.

Papers Promise Aid.

"I'll give my best efforts to get this matter before the people," said Mr. Gray, of The Journal. "I'll have The Journal assign a man to work with representatives of the other papers in the matter of gettinf the consent of the county candidates to postpone the election."

"The Constitution will do all that is demanded of it to help put through both projects," said Mr. Howell, of The Constitution. "I am certain that there will be no objections from the candidates. On the contrary, I am sure they will readily acquiesce."

Keats Speed, of The Georgian, assured the mayor and the members of the conference that he will urge favorable consideration of the proposition from the voters through editorials.

"We will also assign a man to interview the candidates," he said. "We are heartily in favor of both the hospital bonds and the plaza bonds, and will give both proposals support."

$2,000,000 Plaza Bonds.

Assuming that all the candidates will enter heartily into Mayor Woodward's proposal, the conference requested the mayor to draw up a resolution or prepare a message to council urging the city fathers to authorize the issuance of $2,000,000 bonds for the plaza improvement.

Council will meet at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of receiving and acting on the report of its committee appointed to investigate the advisability of asking the voters to pass on the Grady hospital bonds. Council's committee will recommend that hospital bonds be submitted on May 5. This is the date originally agreed upon by the Grady hospital campaign committee.

Wednesday's meeting will be an adjourned meeting, and the next regular meeting of council will be on Monday. The county executive committee will meet Friday, and will communicate its decision to Mayor Woodward Saturday or early Monday morning in order that council can take up the plaza bonds at its regular meeting on Monday.

Indications are that there will be absolutely no dissension in council on the plaza bonds. A canvas of nearly every member recently showed that they are all in favor of the plaza improvement.

Two Issues Before People.

However, it is the desire of Mayor Woodward and the plaza committee of council and the chamber of commerce, that the plaza bonds and the Grady

ATLANTA RICHER BY $1,672,652

City Property Shows a Remarkable Increase in Value From December, 1912, to Same Month 1913.

According to the city comptroller's inventory of the property of Atlanta on December 31, 1913, which has just been compiled, the value of the city's property, including real estate and buildings, shows an increase of $1,672,652.71 over December 31, 1912; the real estate values being, 1913, $10,686,532.02, against 1912, $9,013,879.85.

Including the value of the city's equipment with the value of the property, the report shows an increase of $2,245,019.09; the real estate and equipment values being, December 31, 1913, $23,069,979.68, against December 31, 1912, $20,824,960.59.

The recapitulation of values for the report has been made upon a more conservative and scientific basis than formerly, state the city officials who have been engaged in making the inventory. Formerly, they state, the values have been turned in by the heads of the different city departments, who, in a great many instances, were not expert in estimating the values. The values for the recent report have, in the case of the valuation of real estate holdings of the city, been made by competent judges of real estate values, and, in the case of buildings, by the city building inspector.

The report shows an increase in the valuation of the city hall of $300,000, it being valued at $800,000, as against $500,000 in the inventory of 1912. The property valuation of the city fire department shows an increase of $134,600; $414,100 for 1913, as against $289,500 for 1912. The inventory of the fire department's equipment shows a decrease of $20,156.10. The police department's real estate valuation, including buildings, is $146,600, an increase of $46,000. The real estate and building valuation of the Grady hospital shows an increase of $82,380.74, its present value being given as $900,000.

The inventory of the city's school property shows a decrease in value of $131,734.91, with a present value of $2,397,900. This decrease in the value of the school property is accounted for by the fact that the schools of the city are located in sections where property values are not enhancing, and, as buildings always decrease with age in value, this decrease in the value of the school buildings is not offset by any increase in property values.

The value of the Carnegie library is stipulated at $445,000, an increase of $225,000. Including the increased value of the library's equipment, such as new books, there is an increase of total valuation of $232,220.08.

The valuation of the city's parks shows a large increase of $652,090, the present valuation of the parks being $1,904,025. The valuation of the property of the waterworks department shows a slight increase of $23,140, but in the valuation of the equipment of the waterworks department, there is a decrease in valuation of $510,646.36. The present valuation of the waterworks department is placed at $6,141,770.52, as against $6,629,280.38 for 1912. The Auditorium-Armory is valued at $300,000, as against $278,500 for 1912.

$1,000,000 FOR STUDY OF ANIMAL DISEASES

New York, March 31.—The Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research announced tonight that John D. Rockefeller had added $1,000,000 to the general endowment fund of the institution to be devoted to the study of animal diseases, and that James J. Hill had pledged $50,000 to be used specifically for the investigation of hog cholera.

"The Rockefeller Institute," the announcement reads, "heretofore confined its investigations to the study of human diseases. Animal diseases are as important because of their close relationship to human diseases. In the history of medical science the work of Pasteur on anthrax and the more recent observations in this country in Texas fever in cattle, which opened the door to present knowledge concerning insect carriers of diseases, are conspicuous illustrations of the value of studies on animal diseases."

IN VERY LAST DITCH HUERTA'S SOLDIERS FIGHT AT TORREON

Federals Have Retreated to the General Barracks and Are Making Final Stand Against Villa.

CAPTURE OF THE CITY CAN'T BE LONG DELAYED

Villa to Dynamite Buildings So as to Bring His Artillery to Bear on the General Barracks.

Juarez, Mexico, March 31.—General Carranza stated positively at 8 o'clock tonight that while there was every reason to hope for the early capture of Torreon, the town had not fallen and that the position of the troops had not changed materially in the last twenty-four hours.

This information was given out through Roberto V. Pesquiera, confidential agent of the constitutionalists, and Alfredo Breceda, secretary to Carranza. They also traced to its origin the report today that the city had fallen.

The town burst into flame when a rebel official exhibited to two Americans a telegram sent yesterday by Theodore Hamm, American consul at Durango, to Secretary of State Bryan. It said he had been informed that Torreon had fallen.

"The situation in a nutshell," Senor Pesquiera said, "is that the capture of Torreon seems certain, but no one can predict when."

Caused Great Excitement.

The first report was that Marion Letcher, United States consul at Chihuahua, had transmitted to W. J. Bryan, secretary of state, a report from George Carothers, vice consul, who has been at the front with Villa, that Torreon was captured at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. On the heels of this some rebel official telephoned to the offices of the Mexico and Northwestern railroad here that the capitulation of the federals was officially announced. The rumors spread rapidly and in a few moments the streets leading to the telegraph office were jammed. At the international bridge, there was a stream of interested persons pouring in from El Paso and orders were issued that all be searched for weapons. The saloons, which were allowed to reopen last night, were again closed.

That something was wrong with the news began to be suspected when rebel officials were observed among the seekers for information. Singly and in groups they returned from General Carranza's office, shaking their heads and went to the telegraph office.

Could Not Reach Villa.

Here, too, verification was lacking and finally Frederico Gonzalez Garza telegraphed directly to General Villa, only to be informed by the operator that his message could not be handled.

The whole incident left the impression that something of importance was taking place in the south and it was hoped that official announcement of victory merely was being delayed for some purpose known only to Villa.

A telegram from Villa to General Carranza sent this morning and given out this afternoon felicitated Carranza on his welcome to Juarez and said that Villa hoped to announce the surrender of Torreon in a few hours. Another telegram purporting to come from Villa said he was meeting with desperate resistance in attempting to take the general barracks, the last position held by the federals, and was about to dynamite buildings in the neighborhood so he could use his artillery.

Main Battle Last Week.

Rebel leaders contend that the main battle for supremacy was fought last week at Gomez Palacio where soldiers of both sides fell by hundreds in the desperate conflict.

The losses at Gomez Palacio were so heavy, it is said, that neither side is now capable of repeating so determined a battle. In Torreon the fighting is said to be from building to building without any open charges or concentrated assaults. Gomez Palacio was taken by storm after three sanguinary assaults, according to the brief reports thus far received.

At noon today a single line message, stating that fighting continued at Torreon, was received by rebel officers. A rumor that an armistice had been agreed on was denied.

Federals in Last Ditch.

Confidence in General Villa's ultimate victory was restored among constitutionalist sympathizers here today by receipt of various semi-official reports that the rebel leader had forced General Velasco's federal army to its last stand in the general barracks at Torreon. Opinions were freely expressed, even by army officers here, that fighting cannot last much longer and that it has continued thus far and strenuously because it really is a battle to the death.

General Villa, it is suggested, thoroughly understands the hazard he would run in withdrawing his forces toward Chihuahua, subject to attack in the rear from the federals.

General Velasco's army is in as bad a plight, if not worse. It would have to cross an uninhabited desert devoid of natural defense to reach succor.

Little Girl Says She Likes Her "Mama Best," But Courts Must Decide Fight for Children

Some time within the next few days the three children of Samuel Daddorio will find out whether they are going to spend the remainder of their childhood with their father or their mother. Either way, according to the adult persons involved, they will have a hard time of it.

Samuel Daddorio is a stonemason. He married his present wife fourteen years ago, in Carpento, Italy. Since then there have been three children, Mary, 13 years old; George, 7, and Samuel II, who can look back on eighteen decidedly eventful months.

The trouble between the Daddorios might be described as an aggravated case of mutual incompatibility. Daddorio says his wife is crazy, and she says he is crazy. As the question is one which can hardly be settled by argument, Mrs. Daddorio, her husband explains, has frequently resorted to action, this action usually taking the shape of an abrupt departure from home, with the three children as traveling companions. The latest of these exits took place last Sunday. Samuel wandered about in a worried way until Tuesday. Then, through his attorney, James H. Dodgen, he procured from the superior court a writ of habeas corpus. Mrs. Daddorio, on learning the writ had been issued, promptly returned home.

The couple, the attorney, and the children stood on the front porch of the Daddorio cottage at 323 Cooper street Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Daddorio dwelt gesticulatively and at some length on her husband's state of aberration. Mr. Daddorio said similar things about her. Children, attorneys and spectators looked on helplessly.

It was finally decided to consult Mary, as the most mature of the three admittedly sane persons involved. Mary has gray eyes, the kind of red mouth that only has kept twenty centuries of Italian and English poets hunting for an adequate description of its redness, and a much better command of English than either of her parents.

"I don't know which is crazy," said Mary, "but I like 'mamma' best."

"That settles it for me," said someone. However, as it doesn't settle it to the satisfaction of Mr. Daddorio, it is probable that the matter will go to the superior court. The writ is returnable April 10.

247 VOTES CAST FOR THE REPEAL; 161 VOTES CAST IN OPPOSITION

Vote Came After a Day of Heated Debate—Majority for Repeal Much Larger Than the Supporters of Wilson Expected.

SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK MADE CHIEF ARGUMENT AGAINST THE REPEAL

The Speaker Was Vehement in Opposition, But He Could Not Sway the Democrats — 220 Democrats Stood by the President and Only 52 Voted With the Speaker.

Washington, March 31.—The national house of representatives tonight, after one of the most spectacular legislative struggles in the history of the nation, voted to repeal the provision of the Panama canal act exempting American vessels from the payment of tolls. The vote on the repeal bill was 247 to 161—a majority of 86 votes in support of the personal plea of Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States.

This verdict on the issue which has absorbed congress for many weeks came at the close of a stirring day, made memorable in the annals of the house by a party division which found Speaker Champ Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and other democratic chieftains lined up in open opposition to the president on an issue which the latter had declared vital to his conduct of the nation's foreign policy.

220 Democrats Stood by Wilson.

Today's result was the first struggle within the party since democracy took control of the government a year ago. Tomorrow the bill goes to the senate, where the fight will be renewed with all the vigor and determination that attended it in the lower house.

On the final vote 220 democrats in the house stood by the president, giving him in "ungrudging measure" what he had asked "for the honor of the nation" in its foreign relations. Twenty-five republicans and two progressives also voted to sustain the president. Fifty-two democrats followed Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood to defeat.

Nothing, it seemed, could stem the tide of administration success. Speaker Clark, for nearly twenty-two years a member of the house, made the speech of his life to forestall what he termed "unquestionable degradation" of the nation. In this he failed, but he did smooth over the party breach with kindly words for his adversaries, praise for President Wilson, and an unqualified denial of any voting ambition on his own behalf. When he had closed the debate for the opposition to the repeal, the speech was triumphant in defeat, for the entire legislative assemblage, in which were many senators, rose en masse to cheer him.

Wilson Greatly Gratified.

President Wilson was at dinner when the result of the vote was an-

SHOO FLY,' SAID CLARK TO THOMAS W. HARDWICK

Georgian Mercilessly Ridiculed by Speaker During His Speech on Canal Tolls.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 31.—(Special.)—Representative T. W. Hardwick, of Georgia, was mercilessly ridiculed today by Speaker Champ Clark during the latter's spectacular speech on Panama canal tolls.

Referring to Mr. Hardwick's attack of a few days ago, Speaker Clark merely said:

"Shoo fly, don't bodder me."

The sally was greeted with uproars of laughter and applause which lasted two minutes.

"I entertain a genuine affection for the members of this house," said Speaker Clark, "some of them have said things about me which they will regret when their fever cools down, but I pass them by. The gentleman from Texas (Mr. Henry) and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) became extremely heated because I exercised the right which they reserve to themselves; that is, of voting as it seemed to me was right.

"So far as the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Hardwick) is concerned, I say 'Shoo fly, don't bodder me; shoo fly don't bodder me.'"

Later when Mr. Hardwick arose to discuss another matter a howl arose in the chamber which swept him from his feet as members from both sides took up the refrain:

"Shoo fly."

$1,200 A YEAR LEFT TO PROVIDE LUXURY FOR A PET CANINE

Boston, March 31.—"Pete Cratts" will continue to enjoy luxuries uncommon among dogs. The probate court today approved the will of his late master, John Chancellor Crafts, which provides a fund of $1,200 a year for the upkeep of Pete. Relatives who had been cut off without a cent contested the will, alleging "undue influence."

At the hearing witnesses told how Pete had presided at the head of the table at "birthday parties" given in his honor.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR MARCH SHOW 23 PER CENT GAIN

The building operations in the city of Atlanta during the month of March, 1914, show an increase of 23 per cent over the same month for last year. The total for March, 1914, is $561,644, against $435,340 for March, 1913. The city building inspector states that building operations are picking up rapidly.

The figures are based upon all building operations in the city limits.

NEGRO WOMAN LYNCHED BY AN OKLAHOMA MOB

Marie Scott Killed White Man by Driving Knife Into His Heart.

Muskogee, Okla., March 31.—Marie Scott, a negro woman who Sunday night killed Lemuel Pesce, a young white man, by driving a knife into his heart, was taken out of the Wagoner county jail early today and hanged to a telephone pole. The mob, which was masked, overpowered the jailer, a one-armed man, threw a rope over the woman's head and dragged her out of the jail.

The county attorney of Wagoner county has started an investigation to determine, if possible, the identity of the members of the mob.

A knock at the jail door aroused the sleeping jailer, alone in the office. A voice outside said an officer was there with prisoners. The jailer opened the door and faced twelve revolvers. He was bound quickly and his keys taken from him. He then was thrown in the corner.

The mob pulled the screaming woman from her cell, tied a rope about her neck and dragged her to a telephone pole a block from the jail. An hour later the sheriff cut down the dead body.

FLAGLER TO SUPPORT DAMROSCH ORCHESTRA

New York, March 31.—The annual deficit of the symphony orchestra, of which Walter Damrosch is the director, which in the past has run from $56,000 to $60,000 a year and has been met by subscriptions, will, in the future, be paid by Henry Harkness Flagler, president of the Symphony Society of New York. At the annual meeting of the society yesterday Mr. Flagler announced that beginning May 1 he was prepared to set aside yearly an amount which will insure the continuance of the orchestra on the highest artistic lines and allow for future expansion.

Like all symphony organizations, at least in this country, the Symphony Society of New York contracts a large annual deficit.

HISSES AND CAT CALLS GREETED MRS. MOYER

St. Louis Men Wouldn't Allow Her to Speak on Suffrage.

St. Louis, Mo., March 31.—Hisses and cat calls from men greeted Mrs. Alice Curtis Moyer, of St. Louis, when she attempted to speak on woman suffrage at an open air meeting in front of the courthouse here today. After the interruptions had continued some time Mrs. Moyer said, "by the way some of you men treat me it is hard to believe some of you ever had mothers."

"Oh, sister, that's where you're dead wrong," said a youth in the crowd. "Use your noodle and think again."

"I see you don't care to have me talk any more," replied Mrs. Moyer, "so I shall not continue."

"Go on, go on, we'll listen," answered back some one in the crowd. "We'll make 'em shut up."

Mrs. Moyer, however, sat down. John Reed, of Wyoming, then stepped up to the automobile from which Mrs. Moyer had been speaking and said to her: "I want you to know that I don't approve of the actions of this crowd. If such a thing had happened in Wyoming we would have smashed those men's heads with clubs."

Several hundred men crowded about the automobile when Mrs. Moyer began to speak, but she had not gone very far when the jibes began. Soon after Mrs. Moyer sat down, the meeting was discontinued.

DR. W. R. OWEN CALLED BY BROOKLYN CHURCH

Historic Hanson Place Baptist Church Wants Atlanta Preacher.

New York, March 31.—(Special.)—Historic Hanson Place Baptist church in Brooklyn, whose pulpit has been vacant about four months since the resignation of Dr. L. L. Henson, will have a new pastor shortly.

Last night the pulpit supply committee met the Rev. William Russell Owen, now pastor of the Capitol View Baptist church in Atlanta, and prominent in Georgia as a preacher and contributor to denominational papers, and a call will be made to him within a week or two, it is understood.

Mr. Owen has been preaching for about ten years, having held but two pastorates in that time, one in Baltimore and the other in Atlanta. He was prominent in the Young People's Baptist union in both cities, and very popular among the young people. He has addressed congregations in New York on many occasions, with much success.

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

nounced. He was gratified, but made no comment.

In the senate the bill will be referred to the committee on interoceanic canals, of which Senator O'Gorman, of New York, a vigorous opponent of the measure, is chairman. Senator O'Gorman has said he would call a meeting of the committee immediately to consider the bill. That there will be a fight in that committee is certain. Senator Owen is leading the fight for the president there.

The committee will have many proposals before it, several in the nature of compromises, some resembling a motion of the house minority today to recommit the repeal bill and to repeal the exemption clause with a declaration that the United States should have complete sovereignty over the canal. This motion in the house was defeated by a vote of 232 to 176. It will be the aim of administration senators to have the repeal reach its final vote within two or three weeks.

The scene in the house chamber when Speaker Clark yielded the floor to Representative Underwood, the majority leader, to defend his course in the great controversy probably was unrivalled in the history of American legislation. Never before within the recollection of the oldest member had the galleries been so packed with interested spectators. Outside the galleries the corridors were jammed with disappointed hundreds. On the floor nearly every member was in his seat. Even the senate had adjourned and scores of senators occupied seats on the floor.

Rare Stage Setting.

It was a rare political stage setting that this throng witnessed. Standing before them, while republican and democratic members cheered him to the echo, was the sturdy, big-framed, silver-haired speaker, with his bulldog beaming on his countenance, his thin lips clenched tightly, his face pale and stern. Behind him, pounding for order, was Mr. Underwood. There they were awaiting the climax of the long debate, these two leaders of the democratic party, leading the first rift in the party ranks since democracy put Woodrow Wilson in the white house. Even those democrats on the floor at this time had turned their backs on their immediate leaders and stood resolutely by the president throughout the fight were impressed at the scene.

The interest was tense as Speaker Clark began to speak, and his first utterance, breathing a spirit of harmony as against discord and assuring the country that the president and he personally were at peace, seemed to spread over the assemblage—particularly the democratic side of the house—a feeling of relief.

"There is no personal issue between the president and myself," said the speaker, and his voice was drowned in a chorus of democratic shouts and republicans and progressives applauded.

At the outset the speaker read his address, but soon he got into his old time oratorical swing and was hammering home with sweeping gestures his deliberately delivered words. When he praised the patriotic motives of President Wilson cheers were repeatedly ruptured by applause. His emphatic declaration that with those who charged him with attempting to disrupt his party "the wish was father to the thought" not a member on the floor but applauded him.

Not Trying to Split Democracy.

"Does any man in this house believe the democratic leaders are working to split democracy?" the speaker fairly shouted as he leaned over the democratic side and looked into the faces of his colleagues.

"No, no," was the thunderous reply from every part of the chamber.

"Let him courageously stand up here and now," continued the speaker, "that we may see his cast of countenance," but no man stood up and the house cheered again.

The speaker minced no words as he attacked newspapers, which, he declared, had assailed him in this fight, and in referring to the charge that he was "bolting the president" he exclaimed:

"Merciful God! What an idiotic phrase."

Throughout the speech there was not a dull moment. Repeatedly he was cheered and the echoes of the plaudits rang through the reverberating halls of the capitol in frequent waves.

The speaker talked calmly when he referred to the baltimore convention and recalled how he had led in the presidential nomination for twenty-nine ballots, and when he told his colleagues he was mindful of the fact that his candidacy in this crisis might mean the end of his public career, there was no evidence of regret or of alarm in his voice or demeanor.

"There were many things worse, he said, than being defeated for congress or for the speakership. When he declared he was not a candidate for the presidency and could be happy without it, he interrupted himself with a chuckle that brought more applause.

"The speaker said he had no harsh word to say of his colleagues who had criticised him, but he referred to some of them—Representative Henry, of Texas, who led the fight for the closure vote on the repeal bill; Representative Sherley and Representative Hardwick, who had aided in that fight.

Roared at Hardwick.

The house was moved to uproarous laughter when the speaker said, referring to Mr. Hardwick:

"So far as the gentleman from Georgia is concerned, I say: 'Shoo! fly, don't bodder me. Shoo! fly, don't bodder me.'"

It was several moments after this humorous disposition of the case of his party colleague before the speaker could resume because the entire house sat back and roared, then roared again with laughter. Even Mr. Hardwick laughed, and those who had come expecting to listen to a political diatribe remained to laugh and cheer with the others.

"There is glory enough for all," continued the speaker, referring to his democratic colleagues, "and with such men I will not quarrel."

The house listened attentively to the speaker's argument against the tolls repeal, his assertion that he believed the president was mistaken, his argument that the Canadian-Pacific railroad and the Tehuantepec National railway would most profit by the toll exemption, and his eloquent appeal against yielding anything to Great Britain.

"We built the Panama canal," the speaker declared in the climax of his speech. "We built it on American soil. We have fortified; we will control it! We built it primarily and almost entirely for our own benefit and secondarily for the world's benefit.

Thrust at Great Britain.

"I would rather see the canal walled up than give Great Britain control of it. I had rather see the canal filled up with granite boulders than to yield one iota of control over it to any foreign nation."

This was the signal for the opponents of tolls repeal to open up their strongest batteries of applause, and the chamber for several moments rang with the din of cheers and shouts.

Holding the interest to the end, the speaker remained a commanding figure, interrupted by applause as he proceeded.

Almost prayerfully he concluded, lowering his heavy voice to say "now may the God of our fathers who nerved 3,000,000 backwoods americans filling their gauge of battle into the face of the mightiest monarch in the world, who guided the hand of Jefferson in writing the charter of liberty, who sustained Washington and Lincoln and who starving army amid the awful horrors of Valley Forge and who gave them complete victory on the blood-stained heights of Yorktown, may He lead members to vote so as to prevent this stupendous folly—this unquestionable degradation of the American republic."

Speaker Clark had finished. He had defended his position; praised the president whom he opposed; expressed admiration of his colleagues from whom he differed on this question; chided those who had assailed him and emphasized instead of tarring the situation. As he walked from his desk the house arose en masse, democrats, republicans and progressives alike, and cheered him.

Adamson Closes Debate.

When order could be restored Representative Adamson took the floor to close the long debate.

Representative Adamson devoted himself largely to a denunciation of toll exemption as an "unjust subsidy to special interests which have lobbied steadily before the interstate and foreign commerce committee of the house for seven years."

Throughout his speech the house was in great disorder and Representative Underwood, in the chair, was forced to threaten the speaker several time to quiet the tumult. Later Speaker Clark resumed the chair and vainously sought for quiet, but although Representative Adamson spoke for about half an hour the house was in such disorder that little of his speech was heard.

When he concluded, Representative Adamson called for a vote. A hush swept the crowded floor and the packed galleries as Speaker Clark announced a vote on the third reading and engrossment of the bill."

Republican Leader Mann demanded a roll call and the first republican vote the bill was forced on a preliminary legislative skirmish, demonstrating the strength made its appearance, however, and the bill was advanced through the third reading by a vote of 247 to 160.

A round of cheers and applause greeted the announcement of this vote, and scarcely had it subsided when Representative O'Shaunessy, of Rhode Island, secured recognition and presented the motion to recommit the bill, prepared by a conference of leaders opposed to the measure.

Motion to Recommit.

It read:

"I move to recommit the bill HR 14,385, to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce with directions to that committee to report said bill back to the house forthwith with the following amendment:

"Strike out all of section 2 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 2—And congress hereby declares that in its judgment the United States which at enormous cost has built and fortified and owns the canal without any expectation of pecuniary profit to itself from its ownership and which has the duty and expense of protecting the canal with its troops and warships and by proper fortification may, as the owner and defender of the canal and by virtue of its rights of sovereignty, rightfully provide preferential tolls or no tolls for its own war vessels and for vessels of commerce belonging to it or its citizens flying its flag, and that under conditions and charges of traffic established by it from time to time all nations are just and equitable; and that may lawfully in time of war as well as in time of peace maintain its army and navy in the canal zone, including all necessary warlike materials, both for defense and offense, and may rightfully provide preferential tolls or no tolls for the vessels of its republic of Panama from which republic the right to construct the canal was obtained and as authorized in the act of congress, June 28, 1902, providing for the construction of the canal."

On this motion with its reservations that the right of the United States to control the Panama canal zone, the anti-repeal forces polled their largest vote. The motion was defeated, 232 to 176. The democratic leaders, Speaker Clark and Representative Underwood, carried 61 of their democratic colleagues with them on this vote. All but fifteen of the republicans voted for the motion and two progressives stood with the anti-repeal forces.

This defeat marked the last gasp of the anti-repeal forces. The last roll call was on the final passage of the bill. It was taken with the house in disorder and general confusion prevalent. As announced by the speaker the result was yeas 248, nays 162. But a recapitulation of the vote showed yeas 247, nays 161.

On this vote 200 democrats deserted their chosen leaders to answer the personal plea of President Wilson. With them were 25 republicans and two progressives. With Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood 52 democrats voted against the bill, 47 republicans and 17 progressives, making up the 161 negative votes.

EXPERT TO INVESTIGATE WATERMELON GROWING

Washington, March 31.—(Special.)—Representative Edwards today secured a promise from the agricultural department to have an expert investigate the trucking industry with especial reference to melon growing. He showed the secretary of agriculture a clipping from The Bulloch Times, stating that Dr. J. E. Donoboo, of Statesboro, Ga., had recently sold 400 pounds of fine watermelon seed to a seedhouse in Augusta, Ga.

"Watermelon growing is getting to be quite an industry," Mr. Edwards said. "In Bulloch and other counties of the first district. I think the government should have an expert look the situation over and give our people the benefit of whatever suggestion they may have together with the raising, shipping and marketing of melons. Our soil is good not only for the standard crops, but there is no finer trucking soil in the country than in Bulloch and neighboring counties."

AUDIENCE SAT UNMOVED DURING THEATER FIRE

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—While firemen battled with a fire in the theater building tonight and a street crowd witnessed their work, the audience kept its seats and remained unmoved throughout the performance.

In the midst of an act fire was discovered in the upper part of the building and a still alarm was turned in. The play was halted for a moment while the manager announced that while there was a small fire in the building, no danger existed, the theater being fire-proof. He said those who wished might then leave, but none moved, except a few boys who preferred to see the fire rather than the show.

Will Represent Gainesville.

Gainesville, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The pupils of the Gainesville high school held an oratorical contest at the city hall yesterday to select representatives for the ninth district oratorical contest to be held here. Hardman medal, the district contest to be held at Jefferson, Ga., May 8. The boys, James Pope and Claud Barrett were selected, and for the girls, Misses Lottie Belle Twitty and Marguerite Allen.

Cotton Mills Won't Stop.

Manchester, England, March 31.—General suspension during Easter week of mills in this district spinning American cotton, decided on last week by the employers, was abandoned today owing to strong objection raised by the workers. The condition of the cotton trade had led the employers to arrange a cessation of production, but the Master Spinners' association has resolved to leave individual firms to act according to their own desires.

Lumber King Near Death.

Los Angeles, March 31.—Frederick Weyerhaeuser, wealthy timber and lumber dealer of St. Paul, who has been ill at his winter home near Pasadena for a week, was reported in a critical condition today and it was feared he would not recover. Grippe was used to prolong life. Mr. Weyerhaeuser was prostrated with a severe cold last Wednesday. The invalid is 79 years old.

Bishop Is Dead.

Concord, N. H., March 31.—The Rev. William Woodruff Niles, D. D., LL. D., bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New Hampshire since 1870, died today, aged 83.

SPRAYING ESSENTIAL TO GET PERFECT FRUIT

Instructions Issued to Growers by State Department of Entomology.

In a few days now fruit growers all over Georgia will be busy spraying their trees, and spraying is absolutely essential in order to get perfect fruit. It makes no difference if there be but one tree or 10,000, peach or apple, a perfect fruit cannot be secured without spraying with the proper materials at the right time.

The first spraying of peach trees should take place within ten days to two weeks after the blooms have fallen off the trees. Peach growers all over Georgia should be getting ready now to fight the plum curculio and brown rot, the state entomologist entomology says, for if they do not this bug and this disease are likely to claim heavy toll.

Three Sprayings Used.

Three separate sprayings are used for the cyrculio and brown rot together.

First spraying about the time the calyces or shucks are shedding, using solution of 6 pounds of arsenate of lead and 3 pounds stona lime to 50 gallons of water.

Second spraying about three weeks later, using self-boiled lime-sulphur solution made of one of lead combined in the preparation of 8 pounds of lime, 8 pounds of sulphur and 2 pounds of arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water.

Third spraying about four weeks after the second, using the self-boiled lime-sulphur solution alone, without the arsenate of lead.

The first spraying for brown rot should be made at least 10 days before the fruit ripens.

If the curculio is numerous and the trees are hardy and strong, arsenate of lead may be added for the third spraying.

Protecting the Apples.

The principal enemies against which apple growers trade battle in Georgia are the coddling moth or common apple worm, apple scab, apple leaf spot and bitter rot.

Apple scab and apple leaf spot, destructive fungus diseases seriously affecting the trees and the fruit, are controlled by the prepared lime and sulphur solution spray. The first spraying should be made with prepared lime and sulphur solution (not the home-made kind) at a strength of 2 gallons to 50 gallons of water, just before the cluster buds open. The second spraying should take place within two or three weeks with the same solution at a strength of 1½ gallons to 50 of water, and the third spraying three weeks later at the same strength.

Bitter rot is one of the most serious diseases of the apple and is more difficult to control than leaf spot and scab. It is a fungus disease that causes the apples to rot some time before they are matured, usually beginning in July. It is controlled by the prepared lime and sulphur solution, the same as for leaf spot and scab, but for the most effective control of it, Bordeaux mixture should be used late in the season from July 1 on.

The state department of entomology will be glad to furnish detailed information concerning these mixtures and the methods of using them to any persons in Georgia.

MRS. ETTER CONDUCTING BIG REVIVAL MEETING

Mrs. M. R. W. Etter, an evangelical preacher of thirty-six years' experience, known from coast to coast, is daily attracting crowds to the house at the old tabernacle at No. 162 Luckie street. City Accepts the Bid Of LaFrance Company For New Fire Engine

The city of Atlanta purchased Tuesday a fine engine for the protection of the north end of the eighth ward, which will be stationed temporarily at the fire station on North avenue until the new eighth ward fire engine house is completed. The bid of the American LaFrance company of $8,250 for the engine was accepted and delivery of the auto engine will be made within the next thirty days.

The LaFrance engine was chosen by action of the city purchasing agent, W. E. Chambers, acting in conjunction with Mayor Woodward. Comptroller Goldsmith and Chairman Humphrey, of the council finance committee.

The new engine is a triple combination pump, chemical and hose wagon. It has a 100-horsepower, six-cylinder motor and the pump is guaranteed to deliver 800 gallons of water a minute. The machine is to be equipped with a self-starter, which is worth $250. The LaFrance company guarantees to keep the fire engine in first-class working order and to supply it with tires for a period of five years.

A NOTABLE SALE OF WASH GOODS

Savings Average More Than Half on Inexpensive Fabrics and Rich Embroidered Dress Patterns

The Selling Starts at Nine O'Clock

There come times in good store-keeping when it is the order of the day to clear out odd lots and stray lengths.

The only question is, what is the best time for such an operation, for it means the drastic cutting of prices.

Most stores wait until the end of the season, feeling that as long as the demand is good there is no occasion for cutting prices.

The feeling here is different.

We plan these clear-aways for the time they will do the most good.

And so this one tomorrow.

It is a broad-gauged, big affair. There are wash goods for simplest dresses; there are the exquisite embroidered voiles, crepes and ratines that were priced, until now, as high as $7.50 a yard, now $2.68. There are embroidered dress patterns with the flouncings on the band and the plain material.

A Sale of interest to all!

COL. HUFF RENEWS ATTACK ON SPEER

No Sense or Safety, He Says, in Move for Retirement of Jurist Under Fire. Raps Congressmen.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Recent suggestions that the charges against Federal Judge Emory Speer be withdrawn, and that the judge retire from the bench have prompted Colonel W. A. Huff, one of the chief witnesses against the jurist at the recent congressional investigation here, to issue a statement in which he hotly renews his attack on the judge and takes occasion to criticise, severely, any move toward what he terms a "compromise" of the case.

"There is no sense or safety, no justice or dignity, in temporizing with a man like Speer," he declared. "He has none of the attributes of the clear-headed, clean-handed, open-hearted man of fixed principle and fixed character, and hence he can't be dealt with as other men are. None of the essential elements that go to make up a gentleman is to be found in or about him, and there is no safety in dealing with him as such. He is the most adroit prevaricator that ever came down the judicial pike and must therefore be handled with great care."

Insists on Probe.

Colonel Huff expressed faith in the house subcommittee and insisted that the investigation be carried to a finish.

Colonel Huff reiterated his declaration that he can prove all charges made against Judge Speer and challenges the jurist with the offer to withdraw all charges, except two which are not named, if Judge Speer or any of his friends will get from former President Taft a written statement that he knows or believes the jurist to be "a perfectly clean, honest, upright, conscientious and well-behaved judge."

"If, however," he continues, "Speer fails to get such a statement from Mr. Taft, then he must agree to resign at once."

Referring to the move to retire Judge Speer, Colonel Huff mentions the names of Congressmen Adamson, Bartlett and Hardwick as the ones he has heard were "the prime movers in this retirement and 'let-down-easy' scheme."

"There is much to justify," he says, "the belief that we are at the mercy of a gang of little trading politicians at Washington, all claiming to be democrats."

Grubb to Hold Court.

Savannah, Ga., March 31.—It is officially announced that Judge Grubb, of the northern district of Alabama, will come to Savannah on May 18 and hold United States court in the place of Judge Emory Speer. Judge Grubb will hear the case against the American Naval Stores company officials charged with maintaining a naval stores trust.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The announcement from Savannah that Judge Speer will not preside at the trial of the American Naval Stores case caused no surprise here, as Judge Speer already has stated that he will not preside at the trial of cases pending the outcome of the impeachment proceedings begun against him.

Judge Shepherd, of Florida, and Judge Grubb, of Alabama, will alternate in handling the business of the district.

Bibb Registration Low.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—There has been a slight increase in registration here during the last few days since the campaign to get the voters to register has been waged by the newspapers. There are now a total of 2,200 names on the books out of a possible 8,000. With less than a week in which to qualify, the indications are that Bibb county will fall far behind previous registrations this year and that in the face of the fact that this is an important election year.

The normal registration in this county is between five and six thousand, but it is not expected that number will be reached this year. Friends of T. S. Felder and John R. Cooper, candidates for United States senator, are urging the voters to qualify.

Orchard Asks Receiver.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The Luxury Fruit company, of Fort Valley, has petitioned the United States district court for a receiver to take charge of the property of the company and work it out of its financial difficulties.

The company has secured debts of $22,000 and unsecured liabilities of $1,352. The assets comprise 1,200 acres of land in Houston county on which fruit is grown. The value of the assets is not given.

W. W. Hollinshed, of Nashville, Tenn., one of the principal creditors of the company, is secretary and treasurer.

New Trial for Wooten.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Harry Wooten, the young Jasper county man who was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of Charles Brown in a difficulty in Tybee several years ago, was today granted a new trial by Judge H. A. Mathews, of the Bibb superior court. The court holds that he erred in not charging reasonable doubt and for charging manslaughter.

Wooten's home is at Monticello. He is now confined in the Bibb county jail. Attorneys Dukes and M. P. Hall represent him.

MORTUARY

Charles J. Campbell.

Charles J. Campbell, aged 24 years, died at his residence, 39 Crew street, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. He is survived by his wife, to whom he was married in January; his mother, Mrs. Nora Campbell, and one sister, Miss Mary Campbell. He died after an illness of five days, of pneumonia. He was a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus, and was superintendent of the Mackie-Crawford Construction company. Funeral will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Father Kennedy officiating. Interment in West View.

Capt. O. H. Poe, Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., March 31.—(Special.) Captain O. H. Poe, for many years a prominent warehouse man of Columbus, died last night at Athens, Ala., where he had resided in recent years. He was about seventy-five years of age. He was a native of Georgia and was related to the family of Edgar Allan Poe. Captain Poe had a gallant record as a confederate soldier. The remains will be brought to Columbus and the funeral will take place tomorrow at 1 o'clock from St. Paul Methodist church, of which he was a member. His wife survives him.

C. T. Wright.

C. T. Wright, aged 64 years, died Tuesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock at the family residence, 78 English avenue. He is survived by a wife and seven children; four sons, J. P., C. S., C. F. and M. J. Wright, all of Texas, and three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Segara and Mrs. J. H. Rickerson, of Atlanta, and Mrs. M. J. Robinson, of Vinings, Ga. The funeral will be held at the residence Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, and interment will be at Hollywood cemetery.

Mrs. Berta Wooten, Shellman.

Shellman, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. Berta Wooten, wife of James M. Wooten, a well-known citizen and business man of this place, died at her residence here at 10 o'clock this morning. She had been confined to her bed for several weeks, but her death came as a great shock to her many friends here and over the state. She was about 35 years old, and leaves three children. The funeral and interment will occur at Morgan tomorrow.

Chester Talmage Steed.

Chester Talmage Steed, aged 19 months, died at a private sanitarium Tuesday afternoon. The body was removed to Patterson's chapel, and will be taken Thursday morning to Fairburn, Ga., for funeral and interment. He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. Jerome Steed; one sister and one brother, and his grandmother.

Mrs. Mary Griffin.

Lutherasville, Ga., April 1.—(Special.) Mrs. Mary E. Griffin, of Hampton, Ga., widow of the late Rev. S. A. Griffin, died tonight at the home of her sister, Mrs. Gus Williams, of this place. Funeral and interment will be held Thursday afternoon in Hampton. She is survived by a brother, Colonel C. H. Griffin, of Marietta, and one sister.

Walker L. Williams.

Speed Boat Races.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 31.—The Hydro Bullet, owned by Earl H. Deakin, of Chicago, and the Oregon Kid, owned by S. F. Brock, of Portland, Ore., today won the three events scheduled in the southern championship speed boat races here.

The Hydro Bullet won the first heat of the event for boats of the 25-foot class, covering 15 knots in 24.44. The same boat also finished first in the six-lap handicap race over a 2½ knot course.

Over a limited course the Oregon Kid won today's speed trial event, making an average of 45 miles an hour. The Oregon Kid hereafter will be known as the Wisconsin Kid.

PLAZA AND GRADY BONDS MAY GO BEFORE PEOPLE

bonds be the only issues placed before the people. Sentiment is so strongly in favor of the plaza bonds that it is the prevalent belief that the project will lend influence to the hospital bond project. The sentiment has been created through exploitation of plans submitted by Chief Clayton, of the construction department, at various times. As the consequence, the voters have already given thought and study to the plaza project, and it is possible that nearly two-thirds would be ready to cast their votes immediately.

The advisability of asking the people to vote for the plaza bonds before the meeting of the legislature was also discussed at Tuesday's conference.

The improvement contemplated through the plaza bonds affects state property, and it will be necessary for the city to get authority from the legislature to build the plaza. The general assembly does not meet until the last of June, whereas it is proposed to vote the bonds in May.

Mayor Woodward contends that if the city goes to the legislature with the proposal to improve its property, the strongest argument that can be offered will be the fact that the people have voted $2,000,000 for the improvement, provided, of course, that the people do support the bonds. The state will not be taxed one penny for the improvement, according to the plans mapped out by Captain Clayton and Mayor Woodward with the assistance of the committees.

Create Sinking Fund.

Property owners abutting the state property have agreed and are ready to enter into a contract whereby they will consent to property assessments sufficiently large to create a tax which will pay the interest on the bonds and create a sinking fund for the retirement of the entire issue within thirty years. For the consent it gives the city to make the improvement, the state will have its vast property advanced in valuation, and it will also get a $500,000 office building which the city will locate either at Central avenue or at Forsyth street, or at any other point the state designates.

On the other hand, the city will receive, in return for authorizing the bond issue, an improvement which will make Atlanta rank among the most progressive cities in the United States.

The whole burden of paying for the improvements will rest squarely on the shoulders of the taxpayers.

Should the legislature, for any reason, reject the city's proposition to improve its property, of course, the bond issue will be nullified. However, the progress made by the city before the legislature's Western and Atlantic commission is an indication that the legislature favors the improvement, and it is not likely that the other railroads owning rights of way through the center of the city will raise any objection, for the reason that they will not be burdened by the improvement, and for the further reason that the entrance into the city by underpassing the plaza will eliminate the necessity of electrifying the engines to do away with the smoke and soot nuisance.

Big Revival Proves Religion Is Popular, States Dr. DuBose

The boy evangelist, Luther R. Bridgers, delivered a strong discourse last night at the First Methodist church on the subject, "The Reality of Hell." He cited the incident of Lazarus and the rich man.

Dr. DuBose, pastor of the First Methodist, said last night after the sermon that he wanted the people of Atlanta to know of the large crowds that are packing the church night after night, stressing the fact that religion as well as the gay amusemnts is popular in this city.

BURNS BY Most Dramatic Feature of Tolls Fight Was Furnished By Speaker Champ Clark

Speaker Denied That He Was Working to Split Party and Paid Tribute to President Wilson.

NEWSPAPER CRITICS DENOUNCED BY CLARK

Great Britain Also Attacked—Clark Terms Repeal Act of Folly and Degradation of American People.

Washington, March 31.—Speaker Champ Clark's stirring speech in the house today, closing the argument for the opponents of the canal tolls exemption repeal bill, was one of the most dramatic features of this extraordinary contest. The speaker said:

"Mr. Speaker, there is no personal issue between the president of the United States and myself. There has not been at any time. I trust there never will be. I have at no time uttered one word of criticism of the president. At no time, so far as I am informed and believe, has the president said one single word of criticism of me. In the nature of things, a man who is worthy to hold a high public post in the service of his country must believe that other public servants are actuated by the same high, courageous and patriotic motives by which he believes himself to be moved.

"I have never for one moment entertained the opinion that President Wilson is actuated by other than the highest patriotic motives. I do not believe that President Wilson has even entertained any other opinion as to the conduct of those of us who find it necessary to differ with him on this measure. President Wilson does not desire a breach in the democratic party—I do not desire a breach in the democratic party—and there is no breach in the democratic party. I would scorn to believe that President Wilson countenances for one moment the efforts of some of the jackal press to represent that we are seeking to disrupt the democratic party. The president is too big a man not to desire that this great question should be fought out on its merits, free from personalities, which can do no good and may do much harm. The president has too high an idea of the duties of a public servant to desire members to do other than vote their conscientious convictions. With most of those who have asserted that I am seeking to disrupt the party the wish is father to the thought.

Clark Attacks Newspapers.

"In The New York World of Tuesday, March 24, appeared a scurrilous and slanderous article with these headlines:

"'Leaders Work to Split Democracy Over Canal Tolls. As Filibuster Against Exemption Repeal Goes on in the House It Is Said That Both Speaker Clark and Mr. Underwood Will Oppose the President's Measure.'

"That is one of the most preposterous statements made in any newspaper since Guttenberg invented movable types!

"You gentlemen into whose faces I am now looking know the democratic leaders of this house better than any other men on earth know us. Does any man in this house believe that the democratic house leaders are working to split the democracy? If so, let him courageously stand up here and now!

"The democratic leaders of this house led in the most bitter and successful fight in the sixty-first congress which elected a democratic house in 1910 and sent in those forces which put a democratic president in the white house, gave us a democratic senate, and a democratic majority of 144 in this house. It is a proud record, and what The New York World has the gall to charge that those same leaders are trying to split the democracy. I can stand here now and point out fifty or sixty men who would never have sat within these historic walls had not the democrats and insurgents made that fight in the sixty-first congress.

"Further along in the aforesaid World article occurs this passage:

"'The ship subsidyists are eager to spring a great surprise when the vote is taken. When debate upon the repeal is finally opened on the floor they hope to uncover one trump card that will turn the tide of defeat.

"'This trump card is to be Speaker Champ Clark. Thus far Mr. Clark has carefully avoided stating his position on the question. The World correspondent learned today that Mr. Clark is wavering against repeal. He did not vote when the bill was passed originally, and therefore he has none of the fears of changing his vote that appeal to the uppermost in the minds of many democratic politicians.

"'The ship subsidy interests hope to get Mr. Clark to make a thundering speech against repeal if he can be induced to come out and announce that he is in favor of "nailing the Stars and Stripes to the canal," as one anti-repeal man expressed it today, some members believe many votes may be changed.'

"With Speaker Clark, Mr. Underwood, Fitzgerald and Kitchin urging their followers to oppose the bill, it is conceded that a most remarkable spectacle will be staged upon the floor of the house.

Base and False Insinuation.

"That is another base and false insinuation. If he can produce a line of that statement, let him stand up here and now, so that he may be seen by these hundreds of thousands of people.

"In another World article those of us who stand for the principle of nonintervention against British domination are assailed for 'bolting the president.' Merciful God! What an idiotic phrase! I have heard of men bolting platforms and of bolting nominees, but I have never before of anybody bolting a man in office.

"We are denounced by the plutocratic World as bolters because we stand by the platform, and presently in astounding way to bolt.

"I reckon I ought to have my democracy measured by the weather-cock World.

"I have been a democrat all my life. I expect to die in that faith. I never bolted a democratic nominee or platform in my life. When I was a boy down in the Kentucky hills, there was prevalent a disease called 'interneshun fever;' that is, the fever came up every other day. The plutocratic World is an 'intermittent democrat.'

"The World's insinuation that I am influenced by subsidy hopes is too contemptible for consideration. Everybody, including the World, knows that from my first entrance here I have fought all ship subsidy propositions tooth and nail. On one occasion I led the fight which defeated a ship subsidy proposition by one vote.

"Not satisfied with the foregoing slanders, it attributes the fact that I am standing on the Baltimore platform to the fact that I have not forgotten the Baltimore convention. How can I forget a performance which nobody else in America seems able to forget, including The New York World? It, along with every editor in America, who hopes to be ambassador, minister plenipotentiary, consul general or to hold some other fat and juicy job, has been endeavoring to place me in antagonism to the president ever since Baltimore. Those newspapers declare that I am opposing this surrender to Great Britain as a vote-getting gun for my campaign for presidency in 1916. It may surprise these obsequious courtiers to know that I never hinted to any human being that I would be a presidential candidate in 1916; and that I am not a candidate. Consequently their whole theory is a gratuitous mental degradation.

No Ill Will Towards Wilson.

"It will surprise these limber-backed incense swingers when I say that not what I have unfriendly told those who have suggested my candidacy in 1916, and it is this. 'If President Wilson makes a success of his administration he will be renominated and re-elected in 1916; but if he makes a failure, which God forbid, the nomination will not be worth having.'

"I never entertained the slightest ill will toward the president about the Baltimore convention. I wish him well. I did all I could to elect him, far more than some of those who so vociferously and flamingly proclaim now, and for whom, deep down in his heart, he must unutterably supreme contempt. I have steadfastly supported him until we are called upon to bolt the platform. I would not bolt a man for any such thing.

"One more word on this head; I do not believe that the fact that I led on the Baltimore ballots, culminating in receiving a clear majority on nine, and that I got a majority of over 300,000 votes in the democratic primary elections where he and I competed, precludes me from discharging my duty or exercising my rights as a representative in congress and as speaker of the house to stand up for America against Great Britain.

"Finally, The New York World says that I am to be defeated for speaker of congress 'just to spite the president.' So be it. The World tried to beat me for re-election to the speakership, but nevertheless I received every vote in the democratic caucus but three. I would be more than Methuselah before it will defeat me.

"The New York Sun practically nominates the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) for speaker. Here is its exact language. 'Reports have it that Sherley would be a good man for floor leader.

"Now I resent for my distinguished friend from the third district of Kentucky the implication that the little leaders are big-bore leaders; but The Sun says:

"'Reports have it that already the "little leaders" have decided that Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, would be a good man for floor leader, and that Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, would make an ideal speaker.'

Ridicule for Heart.

"The strange feature of that paragraph is that it makes no mention of my voluble, vehement and vociferous friend from Texas (Mr. Burnes) for the speakership, for The Sun must know that he has had his followers on the speakership for lo! these many years. It seems to be that The Sun has dealt him the most unkindest cut of all by omitting him from the lists. Nevertheless, The Sun enumerates as many speakers—among the greatest of them all, Henry Clay, 'Harry of the West,' 'The Mill Boy of the Slashes,' who, through his long career of mingled victory and defeat, has followed on to the great multitude of Americans who loved him with the intensity and enthusiasm of the Old Guard for Napoleon.

"He has been often wondered why this marvelous man was elected speaker on the first day of service in the house. Some months ago I searched it out. For years the British had been committing gross outrages upon our ships and seamen, and the American people time in protest against it. The administration was not disposed to force redress. So in 1811 Henry Clay, the prime of his splendid powers, came over the mountains loudly demanding that the wrongs and outrages on our shipping and our sailors be redressed. The people were with him, the house was with him, and he was triumphantly elected. He is one of the immortals.

"I have this to say: the fact that I am making this fight for our platform pledges ranks me in my humble career. There are many things worse than being defeated for congress or defeated for the speakership or even worse than to be defeated for the presidency, and one of them is to repudiate the platform on which you are elected.

"I can be happy without the presidency. I can be happy without the speakership. The highest thought of my congressional life were spent on the floor of the house creating or aiding in the parliamentary struggles, great or small, which rage in this large and energetic body.

"If my constituents who have stood by me with unswerving loyalty for 28 years retire me to private life, I can still be happy in the love and devotion of my wife and children, in the society of my books, and in cultivating flowers and trees.

"One thing dead sure, when I do go out of public life, whether next year or twenty years hence, it will be with my integrity unimpaired and my skirts unstained. I am not one of those my children much property, but I will have them to say that I died a poor man, which King Solomon says is more precious than rubies.

"The whole English speaking World and others of its kind made these false statements, knowing that repetitions, these ugly threats? To bully and browbeat congress into voting to make the American thing—an utterly unjustifiable thing—a thing which will excite the scorn and detestation of the civilized world? It cannot be done. I have sense enough to know it, and I have courage enough to do it as becomes a member of this house and the speaker thereof.

No Criticism for Democrats.

"I have no criticism to make on the democrats who, on the 31st day of last repeal. I have co-operated with them so long and have lost and won together so often, that it is with genuine sorrow that I cannot see as they see. I entertain a genuine affection for the members of this house. Some of them have said things about me pretty hard. I will regret when their fever cools down, but I pass them by. The gentleman from Texas (Mr. Burnes) and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) became conspicuous for a while and I exercised the right which they reserve to themselves; that is, of voting as it seemed to me right. I voted for the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Adamson) in committee. You say 'Champ, fly, don't bother me' Shoo! fly, don't bother me!

"I have no word of criticism for my democratic friends who are going to vote for this bill. We have fought together too long. We have fought shoulder to shoulder. We have bled too often; we have mourned together in defeat for sixteen years, to have any regret distressing. We have rejoiced together in our victories during the last four years, in all of which I had a large cause to rejoice in many more.

"With such memories and recollection I often think of the one hundred and seventy-two democrats who, in the midst of the insurgent revolt who achieved our great victory on March 19, 1910, which started a political revolution. I love those men too well to quarrel with them now. You and I, Mr. Speaker, inaugurated the democratic leaders in that historic parliamentary struggle, and I do now assert, that every man of the 172 democrats and thirty-odd republicans who fought with us on that bloody field is entitled to his full share of honor. In the immortal words of Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, 'There was glory enough for all.' With such men I will not quarrel. Indeed, the dignity of the high position which I hold in the partiality of the house forbids that I quarrel with any member. I refuse to degrade in the speakership by so doing.

"I assume that every member will vote honestly the way dictated by his intellect and his conscience; but that should be denied the same privilege? No man here should be a democratic leader unless he is willing absolutely to be a 'rubber stamp' representative or a 'rubber stamp' speaker. If I did, I would be no use in the speaker. I regret more than I can tell that any two democrats cannot vote together; but—

"'Tis with our judgments as our watches,
None go just alike, yet each believes his own.'

"So if we must differ, let us differ in kindness, and it will be better, much better, for the party, and therefore better for the country.

Studied the Question.

"Truth to tell, I never spent as much time thinking about what my duty was as upon this. I looked at it from every conceivable angle to see if there was any justification for not keeping our platform pledge, for I desired to stand with the president, knowing full well that my motive would be misconstrued by every office seeker in the land, but, to save my life, I could conjure no excuse for bolting the platform. That is the reason why I am so slow in announcing my conclusion in the matter. Having had so much trouble in coming to a determination myself, I never asked a single member to vote as I did. I am glad that the entire membership of the house will bear me testimony to that fact.

"On the 19th day of August, 1892, I made my first speech in the house. On that occasion, as on this, a platform figured in the proceedings. Among other things, I said:

"'I am a democrat. I stand by the platform—by all of it—by every letter and tittle of it, because I believed in it with my whole heart when it was made and I believe in it with my whole heart now. It contains the democratic gospel that was preached by the best political utterance did I ever rejoice more than over that, because it was not a Jesse-Hardy, Dan-Voorhees, meaningood Lord, good devil, all-things-to-all-men sort of document, but was a clear, bold honest, manly, masterful, comprehensive declaration of democratic faith. From a hundred rostrums in the presence of high heaven and thousands of the best and law-abiding industrious, God-fearing, patriotic people I pledged my manhood to stand here, and come what may, I am going to keep my word.

"It is an old saying that all things are fair in love and war, and some people appear to believe that anything is fair in politics. I dissent in toto from any such immoral doctrine. The people have a right to honest treatment at the hands of those who aspire to be their servants in public affairs, and to the man who betrays them they will send a silken bowstring for his own destruction.

What Is Platform, Anyway?

"What is a platform, anyway? Is it an honest declaration of principles which the framers honestly intend to enact into laws if they attain to power, or is it a dishonest device merely to entrap the unwary voter? Is it a candid statement of the faith that is in us, or is it a bait to catch gudgeons?

"Is it the plighted word of men of honor to accomplish certain things, or is it only 'a good enough Morgan' till after election, which bolters with the people in a double sense—which keeps the word of promise to the ear and breaks it to the hope?

"I have stood by their declaration almost to a man every time I stand by it now. I will stand by it until I am bereft of my senses. It is the rule of conscience and of patriotic service. No other rule will do to live by or to die by.

"That statement is in language more bizarre than I would use now, but the idea expressed therein is the same idea I entertain now and will entertain until I am in my grave.

"There has been much felicitation among the supporters of this bill about their tremendous victory on the adoption of the rule. When it is remembered that the majority was only 23 on the rule and that a change of 15 votes would have defeated it in a house with 144 democratic majority, the grounds for their self-congratulation are hard to discover.

"When Pyrrhus, king of Epirus, was waiting over a battlefield whereon he had won a hard fought victory and observed the number of dead and wounded among his own soldiers, he mournfully exclaimed:

"'Another such victory and we are undone.'

"To whom does the Panama canal belong, anyway? To the United States of America. We built it at the enormous cost of $400,000,000. We built it on American soil. We have fortified it. We will operate it. In order to get a chance to build it we created a republic.

"For whose benefit did we build it? Primarily for our own, secondarily for the world's benefit.

"Why did we build it? To secure cheap water freight rates.

"Who fought the building of the canal for fifteen long, wearisome years? The transcontinental railroads.

"Who would be the chief beneficiaries of this repeal bill? The same transcontinental railroads—the Canadian Pacific and the Tehuantepec National railroad, which, it is said, has behind many millions of dollars in their capitalization. Consequently, to do anything to enable them to hold up their old rates is altruistic generosity run mad. It would be a crime against the people. I refuse to indorse any such outrage.

"One of the wisest things the fathers did was to distribute the powers of government among three coordinate branches—legislative, judicial and executive; and they endeavored to so arrange things that no one department should encroach upon the prerogatives of the others.

Wilson as Party Leader.

"Under this system of checks and balances the duties are largely devolved upon the president which he is sworn to discharge, and, truth to tell, President Wilson knows no reluctance in discharging his duties and exercising the powers he is entrusted with.

"When he was elected governor of New Jersey he found that he had been elected leader of the people of that state. When he was elected president he found that he had been elected ipso facto leader of the people of the United States, both decisions which was correct, but even leadership has its limitations.

"It is amusing to follow where he leads so long as he is in the white house and so long as he does not force us to repudiate a plain platform declaration.

"Under our system, the national convention is the grand inquest of a powerful party, the party authority to make the declaration of party principles, higher than president or congressional caucuses; that authority higher than president and congressional caucuses combined.

"The fathers also devolved upon congress certain duties which we are sworn to discharge faithfully and with duties which we cannot shirk nor fail to perform because of the party platform and the condemnation of the people and of our own consciences.

"The president has various his duties. The question is, have we the wisdom, the courage and the patriotism to discharge ours If not, we should make way for men imbued with the spirit of '76 and of 1861 that we may permit our priceless heritage of liberty to perish from the earth, which worked from unimpaired.

"The arguments in favor of free tolls for our coastwise trade was very large in the Baltimore platform. It is as follows:

"'We favor the exemption from toll of coastwise traffic of American vessels engaged in trade passing through the canal.

"We also favor legislation forbidding the use of the Panama canal by ships owned or controlled by railroad carriers engaged in transportation competitive with the canal.'

"The proponents of the repeal at first, with far more zeal than discretion, asserted that that plank was inserted in the platform unrestrictedly and without any consideration. But I, who had labored so many negotiations that the men who were on the platform committee—particularly the eleven men on the subcommittee which reported the tolls plank to the full committee—were forced to meet the most false and foolish charge and told the truth about it in self-defense, and the truth is the tolls plank was introduced in the usual way and was fully discussed—not only discussed, but agreed and agreed to in its amended form by the full committee and then by the whole convention.

Wilson and the Platform.

"We went into the coastwise plat-form containing the free tolls plank, headed by President Wilson himself we had indorsed it, standing on it we appealed to the voters of the land for their support, and they, responding at our Macedonian cry for help, enabled us to sweep into power from sea to sea by amazing majorities in the electoral college. And now it is proposed that we forward their faith in us and their support of us by repudiating one of the planks of that platform on which we achieved that astounding victory. A plank so clear that there was no misunderstanding about it, no possible misconstruction of it. I refuse absolutely to be a party to such performance. Tell it not in Gath, proclaim it not in the streets of Askelon that the democratic party will not keep faith with a confiding public.

"We most earnestly desire peace with all nations; we will buy peace from none. In the memorable words of the immortal Pinckney, 'millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute.' When we were a feeble folk, with only five or six millions of people and with very little wealth, the high-souled Jefferson scornfully refused to pay tribute to the pirates of the Barbary coast, and though a life-long lover of peace, sent American men of war to shell them out of their dens.

"Now, being the richest and most powerful nation on the globe, with a population of 100,000,000 souls—the most highly favored human race—we are asked to grant to Great Britain, whom we defied and defeated in our infancy, and whom we again defied and defeated again in our early youth in the war of 1812—properly called 'Our Second War of Independence'—concessions grounded in injustice and humiliation in character—claims which concessions had been abandoned by Great Britain until recently. Root made a speech upholding the contentions of that foreign power—contentions which had been flatly rejected by a president of the United States and his secretary of state. There is a tale in the Arabian Nights or even in Munchausen so grossly incredible as that historic fight. Why should we grant Great Britain a demand which she had abandoned prior to the Root-brutted senatorial speech? No sufficient reason has ever been vouchsafed to us, and none ever will be, because it is an impossibility in nature. Yes, we desire peace with all nations, but it is the sort of peace which Disraeli boasted he returned to Berlin from the congress of Berlin to London, 'peace with honor.' For securing which he was made an earl and ennobled further by the garter. In his famous first inaugural formulating the democratic creed, Thomas Jefferson puts the same idea in these words, familiar to us all:

"'Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none.'

"We want war with no nation, but rather than surrender our right to our complete sovereignty over every square foot of our ever-encircling domain we will cheerfully and courageously face a world in arms.

Calls Wilson's Request Amazing.

"The amazing request of the president for the repeal, like the peace of God, passeth all understanding. If he has any reasons which are not utterly untenable and which compelled him to make the request, he has not vouchsafed them to us as a body or, so far as I am informed, to any member of the house. If he has adequate reasons and I do not doubt it prudent to make them known to the world at large, he could have communicated them to us in a secret session. With all due deference to the president, it seems to me that we are entitled to those reasons before bolting a democratic platform, which generally is considered an indefensible, an extra-hazardous performance, frequently fatal in its results.

"In his message, one reason assigned by the president was in these words:

"'That exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view.'

"If it is 'a mistaken economic policy' now, was it not a mistaken economic policy' during the campaign of 1912, when we all, under the lead of the president himself, indorsed it as part of the democratic creed, on which we appealed for votes? If so, why did the president indorse it then? It cannot be that a proposition which was good before the election can be so awfully bad after the election.

"But is not a mistaken economic policy.' If so, is not our policy from the very beginning of putting all foreign ships out of our coastwise trade also a mistaken economic policy? Are not our rules of charging foreign vessels for wharfage, dockage, pilotage and so forth, while charging our own vessels no fees or smaller fees, also constitute a mistaken economic policy? And that is a vital point. Why, if not amend this bill so as to continue the present law with the exemption section for two years or suspend it for two years? By amending the bill either way we control the situation. If the exemption from tolls should turn out to be a 'mistaken economic policy,' we can repeal or modify it; but if it is not a mistaken economic policy, over our own canal, built on our own soil with our own money, is gone from us and our children.

"Forever and forever,
The As long as the river flows,
As long as the heart has passions,
As long as life throbs.'

Free Tolls and Treaty.

"A second reason for the repeal assigned by President Wilson is that the exemption of our coastwise trade from the payment of tolls is 'in plain contravention a treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal, concluded on the Hay-Pauncefote.' In plain contravention a treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal, concluded on the Hay-Pauncefote.' In plain contravention a treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal, concluded on the Hay-Pauncefote.' Mr. President, I am not a lawyer, but I am not afraid to tackle a proposition which was made by the president himself, and which I believe to be right, and which includes the coastwise trade, which includes the coastwise trade. We have considered solely as our business, and that foreign nations have absolutely nothing to do with it. It is none of their business what we do with it.

Abandonment of Monroe Doctrine.

"The repeal means the practical abandonment of the Monroe doctrine. The Monroe doctrine is the code of the international law and which the United States will maintain at all hazards. That is the only proposition that is vital upon, and the reason they agreed upon it was that it was a genuine American pronouncement, one of the cockles of the heart of every true American betwixt the two seas. It was the doctrine of self-defense. Touch that doctrine and the bristles of the American people rise instanter. Those who assert that the Monroe doctrine is dead reckon without their host.

"No one can forget how, when we had our quarrel with Great Britain over the Venezuelan question, President Grover Cleveland thrilled the hearts of his countrymen, without regard to political affiliations, by a message on which his fame will rest far more than upon all his other acts of his career in the compact, terse, famous and courageous declaration.

"Today the United States is practically supreme upon this continent, and its fiat is law upon subjects to which it confines its interposition, made him for the first and only time a popular idol. There he justly and correctly stated the opinion of 99 per cent of the American people.

"Some years ago I stated the Monroe doctrine very modestly. We were a young folk then; but the Monroe doctrine has grown with our growth and strengthened with our strength, and what Grover Cleveland said it was, and surely nobody will have the temerity to say that it is not, either a demagogue or a jinko.

"Now may the God of our fathers who nerved 3,000,000 backwoods Americans to fling their cage of battle into the face of the mightiest monarch in the world, who guided the hand of Jefferson in writing the charter of liberty, who sustained Washington and his ragged and starving army amid the awful horrors of Valley Forge, and who gave them complete victory in the blood-stained heights of Yorktown, may He lead members to vote so as to prevent this supreme folly—this unspeakable humiliation of the American republic.'

UNEMPLOYED STOPPED FROM BEGGING MONEY

New York, March 31.—Public collection of money in the street today by Industrial Workers of the World in behalf of the unemployed was stopped by the police. Men shouted and women screamed in defiance when, in the presence of thousands of persons jammed in Park Row, a score of patrolmen swept down on the I. W. W. workers and broke up their meeting.

Reba Edelson, 24 years old, was arrested while passing a hat and solicitations, but when arraigned in court on a charge of disorderly conduct was discharged.

Magistrate Steinert, at the night court, tonight imposed a sentence of thirty days in the workhouse on Leone Belmont and Percy Marmor for their speeches at an outdoor meeting the two addressed Sunday night. The magistrate quoted from testimony the remarks of one of the defendants, in having urged the unemployed to march up Fifth avenue and to go into eating places and demand food. These, he decided, were disorderly acts. The sentences were suspended, however, in the crowded courtroom. Marmor's sister, springing to her feet in the rear of the courtroom, shrieked hysterically and fainted.

RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE WILL BE READJUSTED

Washington, March 31.—Readjustment of the railway mail service is being undertaken by the postoffice department and will mean reductions in the service on many railroads. It was announced today that Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart had the situation in charge and would arrange these changes. Several months ago Chicago have eliminated trains that carry through mail-order editions of Chicago newspapers. Arrangements will be made in such cases to have the papers carried on interurban electric roads or on competing railroads.

Besides trains ordinarily carrying railway postoffices are eliminated, Mr. Stewart said, the cars will be attached to other trains.

MYSTERIOUS SICKNESS ATTACKS OPERATIVES

St. Petersburg, March 31.—Members of a dozen families in the employment of a commission to investigate a mysterious and widespread sickness among operatives in the cotton mills and rubber factories. Employees are living in the houses. The police say the epidemic is the result of a plot to foment strikes by men who have engaged a chemist to bring about conditions whereby the operatives have been overcome. A bottle of what is supposed the means used are poisonous fumes.

Anti-Trust Legislation.

Washington, March 31.—The anti-trust legislation committee of the chamber of commerce of the United States today completed its report to be submitted to the chamber's directors April 7, outlining a referendum on questions involved in the proposed federal trade commission law. It was decided that various tentative trust bills pending in congress are not yet enough in final shape to warrant their being placed before commercial bodies of the country for expressions of opinion.

GEORGIA DELEGATION UNIT FOR THE REPEAL

Tribble Only One Who Had to Change Position—Tribute to Wilson.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 31.—(Special)—President Wilson will win his fight for the repeal of the tolls exemption in the Panama canal bill.

He won out by the unexpectedly large majority of 66 votes in the house today, when the Sims bill was adopted, striking out of the canal act the authority for American coastwise ships to pass through the canal without paying tolls.

The result greatly heartened the friends of the administration in the senate, where the vote is close.

Every Georgian voted for the repeal; only one member had to change position to conform to the new lineup. That was Representative Tribble, who had formerly voted for the tolls exemption, but who cheerfully bowed to the president's wishes and supported the repeal measure.

Both Senators Bacon and Hoke Smith voted in 1912 for the exemption. Senator Hoke Smith offered an amendment which was adopted to confine the exemption to vessels engaged exclusively in the coastwise trade, which now supports the president's demand.

Representative W. C. Adamson, floor leader in the house in a half hour's speech today, in which he reviewed briefly the history of the fight, President Wilson had made a foolish speech on canal tolls in Lakewood, N. J., but had now seen the light, said Mr. Adamson. As originally reported from the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, there was no provision in the canal bill for any duties to pass through it free. Mr. Adamson replied to Speaker Champ Clark, who closed the debate for the opposition to the president.

With all the leaders of all three political parties opposing the presidential request to congress, the house gave 240 votes for the repeal, which the president sought to have passed.

It was a remarkable tribute to the chief executive. The people of the country involved in the charge that this is a repudiation of the party platform and a base yielding to Great Britain remains to be seen. The president said it was the right thing to do, and that the United States was big enough and strong enough to abide by its treaty agreements.

Shot From Ambush.

Etowah, Tenn., March 31.—A man known as Jim Logan was shot from ambush and killed while leaving his home early this morning. Logan, it is said, was recently indicted for the alleged killing of two men across the mountains in McMinn county, but has been at liberty, however, and was living unmolested at his home near this place.

Fifty years ago today the first Accident Insurance Policy in the United States was issued by the Travelers Insurance Company.

Since April 1, 1864, the Travelers has maintained its leadership, year after year, and today transacts the largest volume of accident, health and liability insurance in the world.

It is also the leading exponent of guaranteed low cost life insurance, now growing rapidly in public favor. It stood ninth among all the life insurance companies in the country and first among the New England companies, in life insurance paid for, in 1913.

To its friends, old and new, it extends grateful appreciation and invites their continued confidence and patronage, as it crosses the threshold of its second half century.

BURNS' EVIDENCE WILL BE A PART OF MOTION

Sleuth's Discoveries Will Be Basis of Supplementary Grounds for Retrial.

The new evidence which Detective William J. Burns is reported to have discovered in New York and other northern points will be the basis of supplementary grounds to be submitted to Solicitor Hugh N. Dorsey within a day or so in the notice which he has been given of the forthcoming retrial motion.

Burns will return to Atlanta Wednesday morning. He was expected on Southern train No. 37 Tuesday night, but did not arrive. Attorneys for the defense look for him on Southern vestibule No. 42, arriving this morning at 5 o'clock. It is said that he will bring Guy B. Biddinger, the criminal expert of the Burns service, with him.

Frank's attorneys still refuse to talk of the mysterious phase of the Frank case on which Burns has been working in New York and the other northern cities. They say it will be made public, however, as soon as it is submitted to Solicitor Dorsey in the retrial motion notification.

Leonard Haas, a member of the convicted man's counsel, stated yesterday that Burns had been successful in his investigation in New York, and that he was bringing with him to Atlanta evidence that would be of value to Frank. It does not concern either Becker or Mrs. Nina Formby, it is said, but an altogether new angle of the mystery.

PRICE GREATLY PLEASED WITH CORNELIA MEETING

Commissioner of Agriculture James D. Price has returned to the state capitol from Cornelia, where he attended the Apple Growers' convention last Saturday. He was greatly pleased with the meeting.

"There was a big crowd out," he said, "and their interest in the speeches was intense. The speakers showed a profound knowledge of their subjects.

"And you know," he continued, "I can't forget that lunch they gave us. That was some lunch! They took us all up in the auditorium of the school building. Such eats! Yes, that was sure some meal!"

KEITH VAUDEVILLE THEATERS OPERATE UNDER SAME POLICY

There will be no change whatsoever in the operation of the great chain of Keith vaudeville theaters or the many other vaudeville playhouses that have been served from the United Booking Offices of America, the great exchange that handles thousands of high class, high salaried, vaudeville artists each week. Hugh L. Cardoza, of the Forsyth, Tuesday afternoon received the following telegram from Boston, which settles forever anything that has been anticipated in the way of a change in the business of the Keith interests:

"Boston, March 31.—Mr. A. Paul Keith announced today that the will of his father, Mr. Benjamin F. Keith, had been opened and read by Mrs. Keith and himself, but will probably not be offered for probate at once. By its provisions, Mr. Keith makes numerous bequests of a minor character, and after making generous provision for his widow, gives the residue of the estate to his son, A. Paul Keith, who is made sole executor. Mr. A. Paul Keith and Mrs. Keith stated that the provisions of the will are entirely satisfactory to them. The entire theatrical business of Mr. B. F. Keith was some time ago acquired by Mr. A. Paul Keith and Mr. Edward F. Albee, making them sole owners of it."

SKIN GAME IS RAIDED AND NEGRO IS KILLED

Griffin, Ga., March 31.—(Special)—In a two-ring skin game, which was raided here last night, Ezell Alexander, a young negro, was killed by two bullet shots in the head, when Sheriff Slade and a half dozen deputies surrounded the players. The game was in progress in a woods near here, and, on account of the large number of negroes taking part in it, two rings were engaged. Sheriff Slade and his deputies approached the players and ordered them to put up hands. The negroes ran, firing back at the officers in the meantime. When several of the number had been captured and handcuffed, Alexander was commanded to stand up. His refusal to stand led to the discovery that he was dead. The coroner's inquest resulted in no clew as to who fired the fatal shots, but the theory generally accepted is that the parties ahead of him firing back at the officers killed him accidentally.

DEATH TAKES AUTHOR OF "GOD SAVE IRELAND"

Dublin, March 31.—Timothy Daniel Sullivan, Irish patriot and author of "God Save Ireland," died here today, aged 87.

Sullivan, a journalist by profession, was a native of Bantry, County Cork. He was one of the most prominent agitators in favor of home rule at the time when Parnell was in his prime. For twenty years he was a nationalist member of the house of commons, and for two years was lord mayor of Dublin.

On one occasion Mr. Sullivan served two months in jail for an offense against the coercion act. He was prosecuted on several other occasions, but escaped punishment.

Mr. Sullivan was a prolific writer of verse and prose.

WILL REHEARSE TODAY "PAGEANT OF SPRING"

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the complete pantomime, "The Awakening of Winter Into Spring," part one of the beautiful spectacular entertainment, "The Pageant of Spring," that is to be given the latter part of this month under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian association.

Miss Betsner, the physical director of the Young Women's Christian association, who is directing this pageant, is working very hard to present a thoroughly interesting and artistic spectacle.

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the Indian scene and the Nightingale dancers.

J. N. WHITE TO SUCCEED THOMAS GRIER AT MACON

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Thomas Grier, for fourteen years resident here for the Southern Express company and for twenty-five years employed by that company in different capacities, tendered his resignation today, effective at once. J. N. White, of Atlanta, route agent for the southwestern division, has been named to succeed him.

Mr. Grier will enter other business. The employees of the company today presented him with a silver loving cup.

DECATUR WILL HAVE CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

Decatur, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Decatur is following the example of Atlanta and announcing that the town will turn out in full force soon and clean up the region for miles around. The campaign will occur about the last of April and practically every man, woman and child is expected to assist in burnishing up Decatur.

The school children will be offered prizes for those transferring the most old bottles, cans and "jugs" to the outskirts of the city during the clean-up campaign.

MRS. TATUM P. MOORE SUING FOR DIVORCE

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. Tatum P. Moore, formerly Miss Olivia Tatum Pope, today filed suit for divorce from her husband, John T. Moore, Jr., son of former Mayor John T. Moore.

She alleges cruel treatment. The Moores were married the first day of last January, but lived together only a short time.

Chattanooga Gets Suffragists.

Nashville, Tenn., March 31.—It is announced here today that Chattanooga is the Tennessee city which gets the coming meeting of the National Equal Suffrage league. The meeting will be early in November. Choosing the convention city was recently left to the executive committee of the state organization.

MILDRED SALOMED HER PRESS AGENT OUT OF 50 BONES

Judge Nash R. Broyles is no asset to press agents. If the publicity promoter of ye modern day seeks the cooperation of police court, he should first consider the cost, for, verily, it is expensive co-operation—as was shown yesterday, when the judge administered a fine of $50 to Mildred Kelley, a Salome dancer of the Columbia burlesque troupe.

"And, furthermore, the judge put the kibosh on the press agent's pet idea, which was to stage Mildred's dance in police court and thereby acquire unlimited publicity. It was like this: Mildred's press agent had Mildred put on her most daring performance Monday night, because he knew the censor—who is inevitably present on Monday nights—would pinch her. Which he did.

So, the press agent, insomuch as Mildred was pinched, coaxed her to plead with the judge at trial to allow her to perform her dance in police court so that she could show there was no impropriety in her performance. See? Reporters all there! Salome before justice! Great stuff! Front page!

Mildred pleaded, but Judge Broyles preferred the testimony of Official Censor Edward Arthur, which had it to the effect that Mildred's dance wasn't fit to associate with. Hence the $50 fine.

FRANK SMITH RUNS FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Frank Smith, who recently resigned his position as assistant in the city tax collector's office, announced yesterday that he would run against City Tax Collector Williams at the next city elections. He announces his assistants who will run on his ticket as follows: M. C. Strickland, sixth ward, and Charles C. Gillette, of the fourth ward.

FACTORY BURDEN COST DISCUSSED BY EXPERT

Many Incidental Expenses in Table Plants Unnecessary, Says M. Wulpe.

A conference of southern table manufacturers was held Tuesday afternoon at the Piedmont hotel for the purpose of discussing improvements said to be needed in the cost systems of the furniture manufacturing business.

The firms represented at the conference were as follows: Chattanooga Furniture company, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Cherokee Manufacturing company, of Maryland, Tenn.; Marietta Chair and Furniture company, of Marietta, Ga.; Knoxville Chair and Furniture company, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Dalton Chair and Furniture company, of Dalton, Ga.; Mt. Airy Furniture company, of Mt. Airy, Ga., and Young Miles Furniture company, of Atlanta.

M. Wulpe, of Chicago, commissioner of the Central Bureau and Table Manufacturers' association, presided over the meeting and delivered an address on "Factory Burden Cost."

"Material and labor," said Mr. Wulpe, "is a small item in the expenditure of a factory compared with other costs, many of which are entirely unnecessary, nor are they profit-producing. Many incidentals go to make up this burden cost of the factory; one phase lies in unsystematic disposal of goods and the fault is often with the 'middle man.' Much of the present incidental expense of factories must and will be eliminated."

Cost of School Books Published by the State Will Be Probed Friday

The question of the state's publishing its own school books, as provided in the McCrory bill, will be further investigated Friday morning, when the legislative investigating committee meets at the state capitol Friday.

Superintendent of Education M. L. Brittain, who has been asked to obtain information as to the relative cost of books in various states in the union and in other parts of the world, will make his report at this meeting.

While there has been some protest by the witnesses, who have been summoned under penalty without being able to get reimbursement for their expenses, it is expected that all the summoned witnesses will be present.

These witnesses are as follows: Thomas E. Watson, E. T. Moone, J. L. McNair, H. S. Bowden, I. H. F. Beck and J. E. Sheppard.

The members of the special investigating committee are: M. L. Brittain, chairman; Representatives C. R. McCrory, of Schley; Representative A. H. Foster, of Newton; State Senator J. T. Peyton, of Mt. Airy; Representative W. J. Nunnally, of Floyd; Representative H. C. Shuptrine, of Chatham. The members of the committee who are also members of the state board of education are: J. Woofter, of Athens, and Dr. G. R. Glenn, of Dahlonega.

The state board of education will hold its regular quarterly meeting at the capitol Thursday morning. Routine matters will be considered.

Hurt by Bolting Mule.

Dahlonega, Ga., March 31.—(Special.) Charles Spencer, while harnessing a young mule today, had the bridle rein looped around his hand. The mule suddenly bolted, dragging Spencer until he struck a stump, breaking the bridle. His recovery is uncertain.

DELOACH FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF ROLLINS

Jury Recommends Mercy and Defendant Gets Sentence of Life Imprisonment.

Albany, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—E. L. DeLoach was found guilty by a jury in Dougherty superior court last night of the murder of A. D. Rollins, but his lawyers won for him a recommendation to mercy. Judge Cox sentenced him to imprisonment for life.

The case was hard fought during the whole of the day and part of the day preceding. The murder was committed October 11, 1913, in the cotton mill village north of Albany.

Ethel Rodgers, a woman of the half-world, will be tried the second time tomorrow for the murder of Walter Drake, a young white man, on an Albany street. When the case was tried six months ago the jury was unable to agree.

Decatur Smoker Postponed.

Decatur, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The buffet smoker of the Decatur board of trade, which was to have been held in the courthouse here last night, was postponed until April 30. The local board of trade has about 400 members, and the affair is expected to be a prominent event.

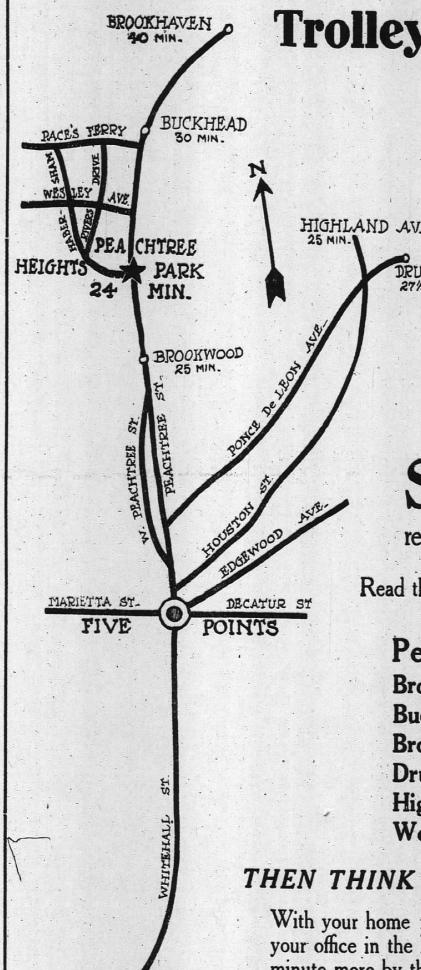
Trolley Time Is Quickest to Peachtree Heights Park



STUDY THIS MAP---It will show you how Peachtree Heights Park is the most quickly reached of any of Atlanta's new resident sections.

Read these figures furnished by the Georgia Railway & Power Co.:

TIME FROM FIVE POINTS TO	MINUTES
Peachtree Heights Park (Buckhead Line)	24
Brookwood (Peachtree Line)	25
Buckhead	30
Brookhaven	40
Druid Hills (Schedule 30 min. with layover)	27½
Highland Avenue (End of Line)	25
West End (Gordon Street Line)	25

THEN THINK ABOUT THESE FACTS:

With your home in Peachtree Heights Park you are only 24 minutes from your office in the heart of the city, with a ten-minute schedule and scarcely a minute more by the Buckhead Line than the time on Peachtree to Fourteenth street.

You are living in the direct line of progress of Atlanta's home-building---North. The trend of residence development in most of the country's large cities is always North. Atlanta homes are moving unerringly in that direction. Already many of Atlanta's handsomest homes have been built beyond Peachtree Heights Park.

Atlanta's favorite automobile highways run through and beyond Peachtree Heights Park. It is where the people go because it is where there is most to see.

Your home built in Peachtree Heights Park will not only be a delight and joy to yourself and family while you occupy it, but an asset of rapidly increasing and quickly convertible value whenever you have occasion to dispose of it.

Come in and let us tell you more about it, or we will be glad to show you Peachtree Heights Park. Or, if you prefer, see your own agent.

THE ANGLO-PHOBISTS.

If the result thus far of the canal tolls debate in the house had accomplished nothing else, it has been serviceable in rebuking the dangerous, blundering and unpatriotic Anglo-phobists who have been striving with all the valor of demagogy and the recklessness of passion to appeal to prejudice against England and involve this country in trouble with the great nation to which we owe much of our inheritance in blood, tradition and institutions.

We are told in inflaming and hysterical headlines and editorials, and in incendiary speeches on the floor of congress, that to repeal the clause exempting American coastwise shipping would be to "surrender" to England. The pretext is seized upon to rake over the animosity that once existed between this and the mother country—forgetting the full century of peace which both countries are about to celebrate.

Fulminations of this nature are, of course, transparent buncombe, deserving the contempt of all thoughtful Americans, and justifying resentment at this cheap insult to American intelligence.

The effort of the marplots to entangle us with England has already received emphatic reprimand in the vote of the house. It would be nothing short of a calamity if, at this critical stage of our international relations, we should be brought to a breach with Great Britain, to whom we are bound by every consideration of inheritance, material interest and tradition.

The attempt to befuddle the issue for the benefit of the coastwise shipping trust by the discredited trick of twisting the tail of the British lion fails of its mere weakness. The people know that Great Britain is not asking to dictate our canal toll policy, but merely for the recognition of a treaty right—the principle of which she herself recognizes in her maintenance of the Suez, and of her Canadian canals.

A British ship leaving Southampton and traveling to Bombay, via the Suez canal, is as truly a coastwise ship in the English sense as would be a vessel traveling from Savannah to Frisco on our own coasts. England would have as much right to exempt her domestic merchant marine in the Suez as we the right to exempt ours in the Panama canal. Yet every British ship, whether engaged in domestic or foreign trade, that uses the Suez canal, pays tolls on an exact equality with the vessels of all the world. The same rule of non-discrimination holds with the government-built and maintained canals of Canada. The proposal to violate this world-wide principle of equal treatment by exempting our coastwise shipping is, therefore, specious and indefensible.

But if the case from the point of view of honor and precedent is not strong enough, from the point of view of economic reasoning it is unanswerable from the democratic standpoint.

To pass coastwise shipping tolls free through the canal will be to bestow from the pockets of the already overburdened tax-payer an absolute gratuity upon an industry already enjoying the highest form of protection it is possible for a government to confer. Under our navigation laws, no vessel of foreign register can transport a pound of merchandise or a passenger from one American port to another. American coastwise shipping is given the exclusive monopoly. Already well organized and capitalized, this precious trust is not only to be protected from foreign competition, but given a substantial bounty which comes direct from the pockets of the American consumer.

No wonder that there is even now a movement in congress to break up this highly protected monopoly by opening American ports to the shipping of the world. Talk about "cheap freights" from one American port to another. Admit foreign vessels to our coastwise trade, and see what will happen. Make transportation between our ports a matter of world-wide competition. Then you'll see freights come down with a vengeance!

The whole case of the element opposed to repeal rests on two points:

(1) Anglo-phobia. That argument answers itself, being composed of prejudice and passion that have no legitimate excuse for existence.

(2) The claim that we are bound to free tolls for coastwise shipping by the Baltimore platform. The man who seeks to support this view by the one democratic platform containing the free tolls plank is confounded by the fact that in the same platform is a flat party declaration against all forms of governmental subsidies, and no subsidy more flagrant than the Panama subsidy ever was proposed. If that is not sufficient, there is the traditional and immemorial party opposition to subsidies, not expressed in one ephemeral declaration adopted without debate and in the closing hours of a tired-out convention, but representing the time-honored attitude of the party.

Faced by these conditions, it was inevitable that the house should have overwhelmingly voted for repeal and against a subsidy. The Anglo-phobists have been rebuked. The democratic principle disapproving any form of subsidy has been ratified. In common patriotism, it is logical to assume the senate will follow the lead of the house.

MOTHERS AND INSTITUTIONS.

Investigating and reporting favorably upon the issue of pensions for widowed mothers, a New York state commission declares that "a second-rate mother is better than the very best institution," meaning, of course, an orphanage. The phrase may be a little highly colored, since the average person can call to mind "second-rate mothers" less fitted to rear their children than ably administered institutions. By and large, however, as between the child reared by the mother and the child reared in an institution, the sensible choice must inevitably fall in the former direction.

The report further lays down as a principle that widowed mothers are legitimately due pensions from the state, in return for which they shall perform a task fraught with tremendous importance to the state—the proper rearing of future citizens. The principle is a sound one. It is a humane one. Despite every effort, the effect of institutional training upon the child must partake more or less of a mechanical character. The curriculum and the routine cannot avoid the stereotyped. There is no substitute for, "nothing as good as" the personal care of a mother, rising in the holiest and most intimate of instincts.

It was in recognition of these facts that the Hebrew Orphans' Home, of Atlanta, introduced to this section the mothers' pension system. The plan was inaugurated after the institution proper was crowded to capacity with children. The superintendent and the trustees were unwilling to turn away applicants, if they could avoid it. So there is now on the pension list a number of mothers whose children have all the advantage of personal supervision of the mother and home environment.

It is likely that sooner or later communities, denominations, even states perhaps, will apply this principle, as it already is being applied with success in England and other old world countries. The child is the most valuable asset of society. The mother is the natural and God-given guardian and trainer of the child. It is to the interest of society to thoroughly conserve both, assuring for the one the shepherding and molding influence of the other.

All these constructive ends are assured by the mothers' pension system.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS.

There is a near-scandal in Chicago because several of the women deputies charged with assessing the interior fixtures of fashionable homes have "leaked" information to the press. These ladies were sent out to Lake Shore drive to size up the value of the furnishings of the mansions in that particular portion of Porktown. Did they see with the eyes of the law, cold and judicial, or with the eyes of the woman, keenly interested in the menage of her neighbor?

Apparently both. For while the appraisals came in duly at the office, there appeared almost simultaneously in several newspapers rapturous and racy descriptions of what the deputies had seen, heard and thought. Forthwith, the housewives on Lake Shore got busy with vehement protest. They did not want their domestic affairs aired in public prints and said so. As a result the board of assessors has issued orders to the effect that information gained in this way must be turned in at the office and nowhere else. The alternative is summary dismissal.

Sympathy may well be proffered all three parties to the transaction. Few women, whether in high or humble station, care to have their domestic arrangements made town talk. Again, few women, since the days of Eve and Eden, have been able to resist the gentle dissipation of discussing what is in the homes of the rich, or the poor or the middle-class for that matter. And few boards of assessors care to endanger their jobs by having a horde of angry women at their heels.

We rather guess the interior decorations of Porktown will have less direct publicity hereafter. But that is not to say that indirect knowledge of these enchantments will not be more widespread than before. Thwart a woman of the right to talk of things that are beautiful or in bad taste in her neighbor's home? The man doesn't live who can accomplish this and "get away with it."

And every woman knows it!

Constitution Dispatch Foreshadows Georgia As a Self-Sustainer

Editor Constitution: Referring to The Constitution of March 20, I find the following news item, which I believe is worthy of more attention than has been given it:

Less Money Being Spent for Heavy Groceries.

Milledgeville, Ga., March 29.—(Special.)—Farmers and the general public trading at Milledgeville has bought $40,000 worth less of heavy groceries than usual up to this date. The six big wholesale concerns here have sold twenty cars less of corn than at this time last year, this alone meaning a saving of $20,000 to the farmers. What is true of corn is largely true of meal, and is especially true of oats, practically ten cars less of feed oats having been sold here.

The new regime is having its good effect here—the farmers are spending their money for other things, and the general business situation is more satisfactory. According to one of the most prominent business men here the outlook is brighter than it has been for ten years.

Not only is this true of Milledgeville and Baldwin county, but also in greater or less degree of most of the counties in the cotton-growing sections of Georgia.

The results shown by this news item indicate very strongly that all the agencies that are working for diversification and generally better farming in Georgia are having a marked effect. It is true that last year there was a twelve million dollars' worth more corn produced in Georgia than the year before, but we have just made a start in the right direction. This general subject of diversification and raising of food crops should be kept to the front, without the least let-up, until Georgia becomes a food-selling state instead of a food-buying state.

We were much impressed with the emphasis which Governor Slaton put on the statement that a Chinese wall could be built around Georgia and she could produce within her borders practically everything that was needed to supply all her people.

Not a Rich Soil, But Soo.

This is true, but to Georgia's shame, she don't; Georgia is never going to reach her full measure of farm prosperity until this suicidal policy of trading off the cotton crop for food and grain supplies is absolutely stopped. Many grain supply merchants in Georgia and other southern states have the feeling that if the Georgia farmer quits buying grain and food supplies from them their business will be ruined. In that connection it is well to call their attention to the letter part of this news item quoted. It is true that the merchant will sell less grain and meat supplies, but it is equally true that the farmer will have more money than he ever had before to buy other things of higher grade and carrying a higher margin of profit, which the merchant can carry to advantage.

The program of home production of food and grain supplies, along with the development of the live stock industry, means farm homes scattered over the state filled with the comforts of life and all the things that civilized man is due to have.

We cannot lay too much stress on this point. We have made the right kind of a start and it is the duty of every one who can to keep this ball rolling until there shall be no such thing as the purchase of grain and food supplies, so far as the staples are concerned, from outside the state.

'Every Day Should Be "Clean-Up Day"'

It is a source of great delight to the civic loving mortal to see the emblazoned words: "Clean-Up Day!" On the other hand, it is a sad commentary upon municipal principles to note that a city waits until some big event to take such steps. It reminds one of a desultory housekeeper who sits idly down, to gossip perchance, or occupies herself with other matters until expecting company and then—with another swishing of the broom and swatting of the duster! The inmates of such a home are admonished religiously for some time prior to company's arrival not to disarrange things—the children told not to throw trash about because—company is coming—we are expecting Mrs. So and So, and things must look spick and span.

After company's gone what happens? The mother assumes a spirit of indolence; she again becomes deeply engrossed in other things; she never seems to see the disorder and dirt about her; the children fall back into their old habit of carelessness. The analogy needs no apology, for its truth is written in letters of—spelled with a big D—all over too many of our southern cities. It can also be aptly applied to any city which takes spasmodic spurts of "cleaning up."

Not a "Home."

It is more than likely that the members of the municipal management in such cities have been reared in just such a home as I've described above, or rather I should say, brought up in such an atmosphere of chaotic disorder. I don't like to desecrate the name "home" by calling such; nor use the cultural word "reared." In such cases it cannot be wondered at that their ideas of cleanliness are perverted.

From observation in many cities where there has been a big splurge and a loud noise made about a "clean-up day" it is noted that a kind of pathy strikes the citizens immediately afterwards, and they are so exhausted seemingly from their undue efforts "all in a day" that they get the hookworm or the germ that prevents them from doing any more cleaning except on the surface until the next "prodding."

Offering Prizes Deplored.

Another observation which I wish to pass comment: To offer school children prizes, or anyone, for that matter, thinking to instill a sense of cleanliness or thereby inculcate one modicum of civic pride, is a fact to be deplored. If by precept and example they are not taught the lesson each day, both at home and in school, then to barter away a civic right by bribing the child to do its duty is little less than a civic crime. At least it is sowing to the wind a crop of sentiment that whereby the future generations must inevitably reap the whirlwind.

Of course those whose lens of discernment is focused to a different light will refute such statements, and if time would permit nothing would give me more pleasure than to meet the defensive in open debate upon their own ground. I can only emphasize in closing that the clarion call of any city should be "Cleanliness—first, last and all the time"—and the lesson to teach the children every day is that cleanliness, being next to Godliness, they must love one for the sake of the other.

The Great Trials of Historu

TRIAL OF GERALD, EARL OF KILDARE.

From the time of Henry II's conquest of Ireland, the people of that country took very unkindly to English rule. The most powerful of the Norman lords of the Pale, the earls of Kildare, of Desmond, and of Ormonde, were a constant cause of anxiety to the English government.

In Henry VII's reign Gerald, the eighth Earl of Kildare, warmly espoused the cause of the two successive pretenders, Lambert Simnel and Perkin Warbeck, and, raising a body of troops, carried fire and sword through the Pale, till the able Sir E. Poynings was sent over as chief governor, who succeeded in defeating Gerald and making him prisoner.

Uncivilized and brutal as were these half-Norman and half-Irish nobles, they appear to have possessed a large share of ready wit, and a freedom and chivalry of address, which stood them in good stead when summoned to London to answer for their misdeeds.

Gerald, when brought before the king and council, was warned by Henry himself that great crimes were alleged against him, but that he should have a fair trial, and might choose some fit person to plead for him. He answered boldly: "I will choose the ablest in England, for I will take your highness yourself for my counsel against these false knaves."

In the course of the trial it was laid to Gerald's charge that he had burned the Cathedral of Cashel. The earl did not attempt to deny the fact, but contented himself with declaring, in his defense, that he would never have set fire to the cathedral had he not been assured that the archbishop was inside of it. This extraordinary plea so amused the king and council that upon one of them observing, "All Ireland could not govern the early," the king replied, "This earl shall govern all Ireland."

But the son of this Gerald, the ninth earl, was less fortunate, probably because he was less clever in repartee. He was allowed by Henry VIII to succeed his father as chief governor; but such strong proofs of intended rebellion were brought against him that in 1520, the Earl of Surrey was sent over to supersede him, and transmit him prisoner to London, where he was lodged in the Tower.

The earl, however, contrived so to ingratiate himself with the king that he was released and Henry took him in his suite to the Field of the Cloth of Gold, where the young Irishman gained such applause, by his skill in the tournament and noble carriage and behavior that upon the king's return to London he was allowed to become a suitor of Lady Elizabeth Grey, daughter of the Marquis of Dorset and nearly allied to the blood royal, and after a short probation to marry her.

Though not immediately restored to the government of Ireland, yet in consequence of the alleged misconduct of Ormonde, who had succeeded Surrey, he was soon after again made governor. It was not long before Henry had reason to repent his choice. On the breaking out of war with France in that year the Earl of Desmond actually commenced a negotiation with Francis I for the invasion of Ireland by a French army.

The peace between England and France having put an end to the project, Gerald opened a similar proposition to the Emperor Charles V, pretending all the while to be at enmity with that chieftain. Again the king's suspicion was excited, and again Kildare was summoned to London in 1527, but his sagacity and shrewdness enabled him to clear himself and Henry appointed him to act as a sort of adviser to his natural son, the Duke of Richmond, who became governor. Allen was nominated archbishop of Dublin and was directed to keep a sharp watch on Kildare. Meanwhile the most violent feuds broke out between the Geraldines and Butlers, while O'Neill carried fire and sword in Ulster.

In consequence, probably, of Archbishop Allen's reports to the king, Kildare was for the third time summoned to London, and without any form of trial was thrown into the Tower. His son, who had accompanied him to London, was not imprisoned with his father and shortly returned to Ireland. Historians have differed as to whether it was with his father's sanction or not that "Silken Thomas," on his return, broke out into rebellion. It is not likely that Kildare would have desired his son to do that which must imperil his life, and the most probable version is that his son's rash and hopeless rebellion was not approved or instigated by the earl.

My Dream-Land.

Time, you scamp, you've made me old.
You've touched my hair with white;
But in Memory's magic Dream-land
My spirit, feather-light,
Is roving fields of pleasure
'Neath boyhood's golden skies,
And by me walks a little girl
With tender, loving eyes.

We dreamed then of the future,
I dream now of the past;
Both pictures, mingling in my soul,
Ecstatic glamours cast.
What was and is in Dream-land
Is sweeter than the real;
Ah. Time, I've got you skint a mile
In my Land of the Ideal.

Calumny.

Into the crowd the slanderer went,
Mean intent! Mean intent!
Out of the crowd the murderer came,
His weapon a tongue; his victim a name.
Oh, for shame! Oh, for shame!

Bedraggled in slime, down in the dust,
How unjust! How unjust!
Peace, fair name by calumny hid,
Can a falsehood be thy coffin lid?
God forbid! God forbid!

Through dark ravine the mountain rill
Flows on still! Flows on still!
Forth from confinement truth will glide
To sparkle on earth and ocean wide,
Goldentide! Goldentide!

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

LID OF POLITICAL PANDORA BOX WILL BE LIFTED AFTER SATURDAY

The lid of the political Pandora's box is expected to be fully lifted after next Saturday, when the state democratic executive committee will meet and fix the rules for the primary.

While for all sorts of offices there are already enough candidates in the field to make a merry race it is expected that as soon as the committee has held its meeting there will be many more.

Chairman William J. Harris, of the executive committee, is now in Atlanta awaiting the meeting of the committee. His time will be devoted to private business until Saturday, the day of the meeting.

He states that he has received letters from practically all the members of the committee expressing their intention of attending the meeting, and the prospects are for a full committee.

The meeting will be held at the state capitol Saturday morning, and at the adjournment of the meeting the members of the committee will be the guests of Chairman Harris at a luncheon at the Piedmont hotel.

From present indications there will be no questions of acute interest before the committee.

The resignation of E. L. Rainey, of Dawson, who is a candidate for re-election to the state prison commission, will be considered by the committee at Saturday's meeting.

WARREN GRICE WILL MAKE THE RACE TO SUCCEED SELF IN NEW OFFICE

And following the appointment of Warren Grice for the unexpired term of Mr. Felder, Mr. Grice has made the statement that he will announce as a candidate to succeed himself in that office.

And so the race for the attorney generalship has promise of considerable warmth.

Weeks before the resignation of Mr. Felder, Clifford Walker, of Monroe, announced that he would be a candidate for attorney general. Already it would appear that he has gained considerable strength about the state, having been indorsed by several bar associations.

With these two gentlemen already in the race there are rumors that one or two more candidates may also enter.

FELDER AND HARDWICK ARE BOTH IN THE SENATE RACE TO STAY

As for the senatorial race, the only candidates who have announced for the Bacon term are Mr. Felder and Congressman Hardwick, and the prospects are that these two gentlemen are in the race to stay to the finish.

Senator Smith seems to have the field to himself for the present, with the exception of Ralph Cochran, of Atlanta, who has been carrying on a "state-stumping" and advertising campaign for some months past.

There is considerable speculation as to whether Governor Slaton will announce for one of these senatorships or will stand to succeed himself.

Should he announce for either senatorship, he would, of course, increase the interest of the political situation, making himself an element to be considered in the senatorial race, and at the same time removing himself from the gubernatorial race and making it practically free for all comers.

In event of his candidacy for the senate, the friends of Murphy Candler, chairman of the state railroad commission, are urging him to run for governor. Just what other candidates might develop is not yet clear.

It apparently waits upon the meeting of the executive committee for the announcement of other candidates to be made.

SENATOR WEST WILL ANNOUNCE HIS INTENTIONS AT AN EARLY DATE

Valdosta, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—United States Senator W. S. West, who has been at home since Saturday afternoon, will probably announce this week his determination in reference to the matter of making the senatorial race to succeed himself. The two-page article printed last Saturday in The Savannah Press that south Georgia had not received the political recognition to which it has been entitled in the past, has had the effect of bringing many telegrams to Senator West notifying him that if he stands for election he will be supported.

It is not known as yet what Senator West will do. He expects to attend the meeting of the state democratic executive committee in Atlanta on Saturday, and it is probable this announcement of his decision will be forthcoming at that time.

RUFE HUTCHENS MAY ENTER THE CONTEST FOR GOVERNORSHIP

The Buchanan Tribune nominates Rufe Hutchens for governor in the event Governor Slaton enters the contest for the United States senate. No man in Georgia has more friends than Rufe Hutchens, and if he undertakes the race he will at least make it interesting.

The Tribune says:

"If Governor Slaton decides to stand for re-election as governor, that part of the ticket will have no opposition, but if he decides to run for the senate there will be a number of aspirants for the governorship. Slaton no doubt will decide the matter in a few days, and if he goes in for the senate it is very probable that the woods will be full of gubernatorial candidates.

"In case Slaton does run for the senate we hereby nominate the Hon. R. Rufe Hutchens, of Rome, for governor. We first mentioned Rufe's name in 1910 for the senate, but if Slaton wants it Rufe will not put himself before the people. Rufe Hutchens would make a mighty good governor, and we believe a majority of the people of the state believe the same way."

FELDER, CANDIDATE FOR SENATE, ISSUES CARD TO STATE VOTERS

The following card has been issued by Thomas S. Felder, candidate for the United States senate:

"To the People of Georgia:

"I have forwarded to the governor my resignation as attorney general, to become effective on April 15, so that I may be free to give my whole time to my candidacy for the United States senate. I feel that I cannot perform my full duty to the state and at the same time conduct an active and absorbing political campaign.

"In offering myself to the voters of Georgia as a candidate to fill the unexpired term of that great Georgian, the lamented A. O. Bacon, I am actuated by the confident belief that I can be of larger and more effective service to all of our people in the senate from Georgia than in any other public capacity; at the same time I must be frank enough to state that from the date of my admission to the bar, in 1897, I have cherished the ambition of representing Georgia in the senate of the United States.

"Practically all of us are democrats and on platform issues there is likely to be little diversity of opinion. On such issues, however, as may arise during the progress of the campaign I shall endeavor to fully present my views both on the stump and through the columns of the press.

"I am a lawyer without other source of income, and I shall not be financially able to carry on an organized publicity campaign. In reaching the individual voter I must of necessity rely upon the generous help of my friends in advocacy of my election and upon stump speaking in all sections of the state.

"My candidacy is submitted to the electorate of our state on my record as a public servant. For three consecutive terms I was a member of the house of representatives, for one term a member of the state senate, and am now serving my second term as attorney general.

"I stand on this record and invoke your active aid and support in the approaching primary with all confidence in the result.

"THOMAS S. FELDER.

"Macon, Ga., March 31, 1914."

JOHN BURROUGHS, NATURALIST, CHATTING BETWEEN TRAINS, FINDS THE MEANING OF "SEER"

"To travel and to see,
For to be old this world so wide."

John Burroughs sat in the Terminal station for an hour yesterday and without declaring his intention betrayed one of the first articles of his creed.

It was to "see."

People call the great-hearted naturalist-poet a "seer." They build better than they know. He is just that—a "seer," one who is ever anxious to see those things in this world the pathway to which he has not yet trod, to feed into his quick and imaginative mind new material for the sometimes whimsical, sometimes startling, fantasies and observations with which his name is connected.

While Traffic Hummed.

Mr. Burroughs has been the guest of Dr. DeLoach at Experiment, Ga. There is a wide gulf between the ages of the two men. Love of science, curiosity about and love for nature bridge it.

With Mr. Burroughs was his wife, as interesting in her way as the husband. A quaint, retiring, easily startled little body, one soon finds in her quiet conversation a keen mentality and a sympathetic outlook.

Mr. Burroughs had come up from Experiment to take the New York train. For an hour he sat in the big waiting room, the sounds of much humanity, the crying of trains rolling over him while he talked on steadily of places and people that interested him.

Anyone who looks for a spell-weaving dreamer in the man of sturdy physique and calm blue eye will soon find his error. Mr. Burroughs knows the birds and trees and animals and their lore. But his discourse is practical, shrewd, sensible.

About T. R.

The first intimation one had of the simply-big man was when, in reply to a question as to what his friend, Colonel Roosevelt, expected to see in South America, he replied:

"Oh, to see things. To see new things. He is a man of myriad interests, of capacious mind, of phenomenal memory. Tireless, too. He's a splendid companion, jolly, unruffled. But I don't think I want more than a few days of his company. He's too strenuous for me. Yet, and it may be news to you, Roosevelt has his moments when he relaxes absolutely."

Mr. Burroughs has been in Florida, where he met such big men as Henry Ford, Edison, and, though Mr. Burroughs doesn't call him big, the versatile and engaging Dr. Cook, "the man." Mr. Burroughs says, "who stole the north pole."

Men Who Count.

He spoke almost reverently of Edison, bringing out that man's human side, his love of humor, his passion and capacity for sustained labor.

He spoke of the recreations of Henry Ford, the automobile magnate.

Burroughs has a way of finding the common humanity in everyone with whom he mingles. His talk shows that.

But he doesn't cotton to Dr. Cook. He related how, in Florida, Dr. Cook sought an audience with Edison. The wizard of Orange steadily evaded, until finally the redoubtable doctor followed him out on the pier where, like the ancient mariner, "he could not help but hear."

His Own Plans.

"I want to go to Egypt next winter," said Mr. Burroughs, "if I can find the right party. Egypt, Italy and Greece. To study? Oh, no. I wouldn't call it that. Just to see."

Always that note recurred, "just to see."

Someone mentioned a poem of his, the refrain of which is, "I know mine own shall come to me." Two or three significant lines are, "I stay my haste, I make delays."

A Prophecy Fulfilled.

His eyes kindled. "You know," he said, "that poem was written fifty years ago." His questioner hoped that his "own" had come to the placid and unhurried philosopher.

The answer was emphatic. "Surely," he said. "The poem was the prophecy of a young man, and today it is the fulfillment of an old man. My 'own' has come to me, come amply."

Dr. DeLoach appeared to escort him to his train. With a brisk stride the man one is tempted to believe will never, like Peter Pan, quite "grow up," and who the other day conquered the gorge at Tallulah and precipitous Stone Mountain, followed him, leaving a courteous good-bye and an atmosphere of visions that are and are not of this earth.

"Just to see." A seer who comrades with such simple things as the stars and the good green things beneath the stars.

S. W. D.

Carpets and Cushions.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

When Newell Dwight Hillis, successor of Henry Ward Beecher, recently asked his attitude, in case there should be those of the unemployed who might ask to sleep in his church, he replied that he certainly should allow them to do so—that he could never see "Folks" as less in value than "Carpets and Cushions."

There is altogether too much Carpet and Cushion consideration moving around.

So long as we ourselves have our Sunshine we cannot understand the Shadow somewhere else. And yet, there is never Sunshine without Shadows.

The worker who can't see beyond his own little cultivated duties, is a representation of the Carpet and Cushion philosophy in life. How fast this idea is getting to big business men. Evidently Henry Ford, the Detroit business man, had this in mind when he initiated his co-operative plan of dividing liberally with those who helped make his own success.

Anyway, the sooner we all get away from the mean Carpet and Cushion kind of worship, the better for the world and posterity.

Freaks of Fate.

(From The Kansas City Star.)

A scientist who made several descents into the crater of Vesuvius was found dead in bed the other day, asphyxiated by gas. Which is a reminder, somehow, of the steeple-jack, who, in stepping over a curbstone at the state line, stumbled and broke his neck.

SUFFRAGISTS TO HOLD CELEBRATION ON MAY 2

Will Have Great Demonstration and Will Adopt Nation-Wide Resolutions.

Mrs. M. L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, has received from the National American Woman's Suffrage association the following call:

"The official board of the National Woman Suffrage association hereby issues a call to the suffragists of the country to rally at an open-air mass meeting on the second day of May, 1914, in every city, village and hamlet from the Atlantic to the Pacific, to respond to a rummage hunt by singing a hymn of suffrage faith and by adopting a nation-wide resolution, to be presented to the congress of these United States, calling upon congress to meet the demand of the American women for political freedom.

"Anna Howard Shaw, president; Jane Addams, first vice president; Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, second vice president; Caroline Ruutz-Rees, third vice president; Susan W. Fitzgerald, recording secretary; Mary Ware Dennett, corresponding secretary; Katharine Dexter McCormick, treasurer; Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, first auditor; Mrs. Joseph Tilton Bowen, second auditor."

From the State President.

Following is the message from the state president:

"Dr. Shaw has asked President Woodrow Wilson to set apart the first Saturday in May as 'Woman's Independence day,' and she gives her reasons for the same in a clear-cut independent way that should commend her to her devoted followers and cause them to obey her wishes in regard to the demonstration on May 2 most joyfully.

"Should any organization in Georgia desire to make further demonstration on May 2 in the way of parades, festivals, banquets or celebrations of any nature, they are, of course, urged to do so by both national and state woman suffrage associations.

"If there are localities in Georgia where there are relatively few suffragists as yet unorganized who desire to participate in suffrage day celebrations, please communicate with me or with the National American Woman's Suffrage headquarters, 505 Fifth avenue, New York, so that some plan can be worked out to meet this demand to aid in this great demonstration of women.

"Faithfully yours,

"MARY L. McLENDON,

"President of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage Association."

To Introduce Bill.

"Hon. Barry Wright, of Rome, Ga., will present the bill in the forthcoming legislature asking the vote for the women of Georgia.

"Mr. Wright has also promised to work for raising the age of consent from 10 years to at least 14 years."

GEORGIA TRUST COMPANY WILL DECLARE DIVIDEND

The Trust Company of Georgia will today declare its regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent on a capitol stock of $100,000, or $2,500, making an annual dividend of 10 per cent, or $10,000.

TAYLOR COUNTY WILL USE HER OWN CONVICTS

The state prison commission on Tuesday issued an order for the removal of ten convicts from work on the public roads of Macon county to be placed on the roads of Taylor county.

Taylor county convicts have been used by Macon county for some time, but Taylor county has now decided to use the convicts for the building of her own roads. The removal of this number still leaves fourteen convicts in Macon county.

RATE REVISION SOUGHT BY CAROLINA SHIPPERS

Columbia, S. C., March 31.—Revision of freight rates as affecting shippers of South Carolina is expected by trunk lines operating in this state, according to reports of probable action by the railroad commission in reference to charges of discrimination in favor of North Carolina and Georgia points. The proposed adjustment will include revision by the interstate commerce commission of rates from the east to southern points and a revision by the railways of rates from the west to South Carolina destinations.

Charges that trunk lines operating in this state discriminate in favor of North Carolina and Georgia shippers, filed with the railroad commission, are held by Secretary Harby, of the commission, to be tacitly admitted in the return of the railroads to the complaint.

35 WEAPON CARRIERS SENTENCED BY JUDGE

New York, March 31.—As a warning to persons who, either through carelessness or wilfulness, violate the law against carrying concealed weapons, Judge Rosalsky today sentenced thirty-five persons who had pleaded guilty to carrying revolvers, blackjacks, sling shots, stilettos or razors. The sentences ranged from fines of $5 to terms from three years and one month to six years and six months in Sing Sing.

Many of those sentenced were charged with having a revolver in their possession or in their place of business. This is a violation of the law. A majority of the defendants were foreigners.

School Rally in Talbot.

Talbotton, Ga., March 31.—(Special.) H. P. Hewett, county school commissioner, has made arrangements for an educational rally, the date being set for May 9. The schools of the county will compete for prizes in reading, spelling, oratory, drawing, sewing and athletics.

The Birthday Remembrance

A birthday gift is appreciated more than a Christmas remembrance.

A birthday gift is more expressive and consistent. There's no distinction and more sincere compliment conferred that is lacking in your holiday gifts.

Any little token of your affection will add much to the happiness of any loved one celebrating the annual recurrence of their natal day.

In April a birthstone will be doubly acceptable for the diamond is the birthstone for this month.

We sell Diamond Rings, La Vallieres, Bracelets, Brooches, Pendants, etc., at prices to suit your individual requirements. Solitaire rings range in price from $12.50 upward. Call at the store or write for 32-page illustrated catalogue and booklet, "Facts About Diamonds."

Arturo Toscanini Coming For Grand Opera Season

It has become definitely known that Arturo Toscanini, the world-famous orchestra conductor of the Metropolitan Opera company, will appear in Atlanta during grand opera week.

Some fear that he might not be here was felt some time ago, when, during a rehearsal in New York, the famous director became angry and threw down his baton, declaring that he would never direct an orchestra for the Metropolitan people again.

The matter was serious for some time, but the affair has been patched up, and Toscanini is once more willing to take his place in the orchestra pit.

Decidedly, Atlanta has never been offered a more brilliant week of operas or array of opera singers than this year.

Besides many of the world-famous singers who have been heard in Atlanta in the past seasons, there will be several new stars.

Most notable among these, probably, is Margarete Ober, who sings the role of Octavian, which she created in "Der Rosenkavalier."

"Der Rosenkavalier" itself will form one of the most brilliant attractions of the week.

The loss of "Carmen" will be entirely offset by the presentation, on the opening night, of Massenet's "Manon," a delightful opera which has not been produced in Atlanta.

Large House Applauds Work Of Philharmonic Orchestra

The most brilliant feature of the concert given last night at the Atlanta theater by the Philharmonic orchestra was the singing of Miss Eva Emmett Wycoff, one of the best known and most talented of American singers. A large house showed their appreciation of her talent, when it applauded her solo, "The Cross of Fire," by M. Bruch (from Ave Maria), to the echo.

The introductory number, the work of an American composer, P. May Jonson, of Los Angeles, was the symphonic overture of the program, and was interesting throughout.

The second half of the evening's entainment was featured by a work of another American composer, C. E. Pemberton. "The Light That Failed," a symphonic poem, told in music the story after Rudyard Kipling, portraying in graphic measure the tragedy and the dramatic incidents of Kipling's story.

The following program was given:

Symphonic overture, Romance; Allegro—M. F. Mason.

From "Pagliacci"—Intermezzo; Menuetto and Gavotte—R. Leoncavallo.

From "The Cross of Fire"—Ave Maria—M. Bruch—Miss Wycoff.

Intermission.

Solveig's Love Song—Edv Grieg.

Lullaby—Joh Brahms.

Symphonic poem, "The Light That Failed" (after Kipling)—C. E. Pemberton.

From "The Damnation of Faust"—Hungarian March—H. Berlioz.

A LITTLE SUNSHINE AND A LITTLE RAIN, ATLANTA FORECAST

Following is the weather forecast for Wednesday: Unsettled, rainy weather will continue at Atlanta on April 1. The wind will be moderate in velocity, mostly from the east or northeast. The temperature will fall only slightly, probably reaching about 58 degrees on Wednesday morning, and not quite touching 70 degrees during the day. There will be sunshine, occasionally. The outlook is not favorable.

CHICAGO JURIES KIND TO WOMEN WHO KILL

Chicago, March 31.—The fourteenth woman in two years to be acquitted in Chicago on a charge of murdering a man was freed today when Judge Gorman took from a jury the case of Miss Maude Oberg, accused of having stabbed Edward Gersch, December 25, 1913, during a fight.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT IN SERIOUS CONDITION

London, March 31.—A Cairo dispatch to the Central News says that James Gordon Bennett, the proprietor of The New York Herald, after showing considerable improvement in his physical condition, has become worse. It adds that physicians were in attendance throughout the night.

GOVERNOR IS PLACED ABOVE THE COURTS

Charleston, W. Va., March 31.—That the office of governor of West Virginia is political and the discretion vested in the chief executive by the state constitution and laws governing his official duties is not subject to review or control by courts, was the decision of the supreme court of appeals today in the case of Judge Jackson against Graham, in which a writ of prohibition was awarded commanding Judge John T. Graham from proceeding further in the suit for $5,000 damages against Governor Hatfield and four officers of the West Virginia National guard.

When martial law was in force on Paint creek, the Socialist Labor Star opposed the policy of the state administration. Officers of the national guard raided the plant, arrested the editors and confiscated copy of an edition. The publishers entered suit for damages, and the contention was made in supreme court that the courts of Cabell county had no jurisdiction.

The court held, further, that a subordinate military officer is not rendered personally liable for injury to private property from executing a lawful order issued by the governor as commander-in-chief of the military forces.

BANKRUPT SIEGEL SUED FOR ABSOLUTE DIVORCE

New York, March 31.—Henry Siegel, bankrupt backer and merchant, under indictment for grand larceny and violation of state banking laws, is named as defendant in a suit for absolute divorce which counsel for Mrs. Marie Vaughn Siegel said would be filed today. It is understood two co-respondents are named.

Mrs. Siegel was the widow of George M. Wilde, brother of Rear Admiral Wilde, U. S. N., when she came to New York from her home in Virginia in search of work. She was employed as a newspaper writer, and was assigned to write a story about the Siegel stores when they opened. There she met Siegel. She resigned from the staff of the newspaper and went to work for Siegel. In 1898 they were married.

Until four years ago, Siegel and his wife maintained luxurious establishments in New York, Mamaroneck and London.

Four years ago Mrs. Siegel went abroad. The fact that the couple had separated became known. Siegel, it was said, was paying his wife $25,000 a year. These payments, however, are declared to have been discontinued some time ago, after Siegel's affairs became involved.

Mrs. Siegel arrived in New York from Paris about five weeks ago. She consulted her attorneys and they began preparation of the complaint against the merchant-banker.

CLARKE BEATS KIRBY FOR THE U. S. SENATE

Little Rock, Ark., March 31.—Figures received this afternoon from the primary election of last week show that Senator James P. Clarke has won in the senatorial race over Judge William F. Kirby. The official vote of Poinsett county, as given by the chairman of the Poinsett county central committee, gives Clarke a majority in that county of 1,181 and in the state of 720.

The total vote of the state, official except from Poinsett, which comes from the chairman of that county's central committee, is: Clarke 83,446, Kirby 82,745.

The Poinsett county official returns are being brought to this city by County Chairman Clyde Goings personally.

Burglars Get $1,000.

Charlotte, N. C., March 31.—Safe crackers secured a thousand dollars in stamps and money from the post-office at Randleman, N. C., this morning at 2:30, says a special from that place. An attempt was made to blow open the vault of the People's Bank also, but beyond defacement of the doors, no damage was done.

MAN WAS TURNED INTO AUTOMATON BY MASTER MIND

New York, March 31.—In the conviction yesterday in general sessions for grand larceny of Philip S. Saitta, a lawyer, Judge Swann, as well as the jury, was amazed by the character of the evidence which revealed an extraordinary psychological study of the subjection of one man to the domination of another; of a man named Salvator E. Gatto, who blindly followed Saitta's dictation. So convincing was the story that Gatto told of his career as Saitto's slave that after the jury had rendered its verdict, Judge Swann said:

"Gatto palpably had become an automaton under the influence of a master mind. Unquestionably he had felt the compulsion to perform whatever act he was bidden to perform. The case developed an instance in real life of one person being 'svengalied' by the influence of a superior mind."

Saitta was on trial for having duped Italian lemon growers into sending consignments of fruit to a dummy firm, using the name of Gatto and leading the exporters to believe it to be an old commission house of this city.

Saitto made Gatto sign for the consignments and then turn them over to him.

"Once he struck me," Gatto testified. "I started to cry and he drove me out of his office. That same day he made me pawn my watch for $120 and bring him the money. He could make me do anything he wanted. I might know it was wrong, but I'd do it just the same."

TO WEIGH THE MOON SCIENTISTS PREPARE

Chicago, March 31.—Experiments for the weighing and measurement of the moon are being conducted by scientists at the University of Chicago, it was announced today.

These experiments are a continuation of the observation which satisfied the scientists that the earth is a rigid body, offering enormous resistance to the attraction of planets. The effect of the sun on the tides will be compared to the effect of the moon and by interpreting the results the scientists hope to determine the weight of the moon compared with that of the sun.

Further tests will be made to judge the mass and composition of the moon.

WINSHIP TO TOUR STATE IN INTEREST OF ROADS

Emory Winship, of Macon, chairman of the good roads committee of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, and a selected party, in his two automobiles, will tour the state at an early date to interview the county commissioners on the subject of a state highway commission, the object of which will be to regulate the working of the roads in all of the counties and to improve conditions in all these.

Detailed plans for the trip have not yet been completed, but Chairman Winship stated yesterday that this course would probably be the first important step taken looking toward getting the highway bill before the legislature at its next session.

FOR DOUBLE MURDER WELTER MUST ANSWER

Chicago, March 31.—Should he recover from bullet wounds, believed to have been inflicted by the police announced today they would arrest Peter Welter on a charge of murdering Mr. Catherine Morris and Mrs. Sarah Sallans, neighbors, in cold blood yesterday afternoon while working in their homes. Welter is in a critical condition at the county hospital.

Welter, a neighborhood character, was a boarder at the Sallans home, and was a friend of the Morris family. The police believe Welter attacked the two women while under the influence of liquor.

Flourishing a revolver and threatening no shoot, Welter was found hiding in the closet in his room, weak from the loss of blood from wounds in his abdomen and right temple. A trail of blood led from his room to the kitchen, where Mrs. Sallans' body was found. Neighbors told the police they had seen Welter at the Morris home short time before.

"A man shot us," was all Welter would tell the police.

ACCUSED OF STEALING $20,000 FROM THE MAILS

Harrisburg, Pa., March 31.—William R. Baum, aged 30, a railway mail clerk, was arrested today charged with having stolen $20,000 from the mails July 1, 1912. Several federal secret detectives have been at work on the case ever since the robbery.

Houston Court to Meet.

Perry, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Houston superior court will convene on Monday, April 6, and bids fair to be a short session. There are fifty-two civil cases, set for four days. There are seventeen warrants to be investigated by the grand jury, four of which are for murder and the remainder all felonies. Since an amendment to the act creating city court refuses defendants the right to demand indictment by grand jury in misdemeanor crimes, the criminal side of the superior court has been greatly lessened.

BURGLARY AND ARSON CHARGED TO CASHIER

Alleged That Brown Took $30,000 From Vault and Applied the Torch.

Nashville, Tenn., March 31.—Will B. Brown, aged 27, now serving his second term as mayor of Gallatin, Tenn., arrested last night on a charge of embezzling over $30,000 from the First National Bank of Gallatin, of which he was assistant cashier, arrived in Nashville at 2:30 o'clock this morning in his own automobile, escorted by his attorney and officers. He was guarded in the United States marshal's office till late in the morning before he appeared. The preliminary hearing was fixed for April 14 and the bond at $15,000. This was promptly given.

Brown assumed an attitude of absolute silence and immediately after bond was made boarded his car with his attorney and drove to Gallatin.

Herbert B. Jackson, charged with aiding and abetting Brown, is under a $5,000 bond, given shortly after his arrest late yesterday. He is an employee of the state mining department and lives in Gallatin.

Brown did not waive examination, as did Jackson, and at the preliminary hearing it is expected the case will be gone into fully unless meanwhile it is decided by Brown's attorneys to allow the case to go to the grand jury which convenes in September.

On the morning of March 20 fire was discovered in the vault of the bank at Gallatin and it was at first thought yeggmen had visited the institution and carried off some $30,000 in bonds and currency which officials believed to be there. Experts called in alleged that the vault had never been blown and laid the losses of the bank at the door of someone familiar with it.

COUNTED AMONG DEAD, HE'S VERY MUCH ALIVE

New York, March 31.—Captain Albert Wellman, who fought under Osman Pasha in the Turkish-Russian war and was counted among the dead at the battle of Plevna in 1877, has been reunited to his wife, who had left their home in Cairo for England and eventually for this country after receiving the news that her husband had been killed.

Captain Wellman, instead of being dead, was among the prisoners taken by the Russians. When he was released from prison in Russia he could find no trace of his wife and son. After making a long search for them he came to this country. He settled in Montreal, where he built up a large furniture manufacturing business. Recently he received word from Mrs. Wellman's relatives that she was living in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn.

SPELLED "ISOSCELES" 56 DIFFERENT WAYS

Albany, N. Y., March 31.—High school students in New York state who took the recent examination in geometry a few days ago, misspelled the word "isosceles" fifty-six different ways, it was announced today.

Park Pushes Charges.

Washington, March 31.—Charges made in the house by Representative Park, of Georgia, against Justice Daniel Thew Wright, of the District of Columbia supreme court, were considered today by the house judiciary committee. Mr. Park spoke in support of his resolution authorizing the committee to begin formal investigation of the charges. Action was deferred.

CRISIS APPROACHING FOR THE RAILROADS

So President Willard Tells Commerce Commission in Urging Rate Advance.

Washington, March 31.—To facilitate consideration of the advance rate case Chairman Harlan announced today that the interstate commerce commission had decided to grant the request of the railroads to hear their concluding testimony today and Thursday.

The request was made by Vice President Brownell, of the Erie railroad, who pointed out that what he declared was the serious financial condition of the carriers warranted them and the commission to expedite the hearings in every way.

The commission had assignments made through Wednesday and Thursday, but concluded that it would be better to hear the final testimony of the roads now than to wait until the latter part of April.

In that connection it was said to be not unlikely, in order further to facilitate consideration of the case by the commission, that counsel for the railroads might submit the case to the commission without oral argument, relying upon their testimony and briefs fully to inform the commission as to their position.

Big Decreases Shown.

Before proceeding with regular testimony, counsel for the railroads submitted figures showing the results of operations for the seven months ended January 31, 1914.

Individually, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and the Erie systems showed decreases in gross income, ranging from 14.6 per cent for the New York Central.

President Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio, testified that since he became president of the system in 1910, $76,000,000 had been expended to provide increased facilities. Now, however, the road has cut off all improvement work except one cut-off, to cost $6,000,000.

At the conclusion of his testimony President Willard gave his views on the existing situation.

"I should say a crisis was approaching," said he, "when the net earnings from railroad operations were so small that a company was unable to continue to maintain their returns upon the property, thus jeopardizing the future of railroad securities. It also would be a crisis for workingmen, not because of a lack of need for their services, but because of inability of employers to pay wages. As I conceive it, all these conditions of crisis or of approaching crisis are at hand in full measure today. Three or four years ago we based our application for increased rates upon what was considered to be a tendency. Today it is not a question of tendency, but a question of fact."

Erie Is Retrenching.

New York, March 31.—The Erie railroad, through A. J. Stone, general manager, today announced that enforcement of a general retrenchment order, including a reduction in the clerical force, wage cuts and lessening of working hours, to aid, according to the statement, its offsetting declining revenues. About 2,000 men have been laid off since December.

Pennsylvania Is Retrenching.

Pittsburg, March 31.—Retrenchment on the Pennsylvania lines west was extended today with the announcement that ten passenger trains were to be taken off on Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad next Sunday, six of them suburban trains. Shop forces also are being reduced.

FOR MURDER OF WIDOW HE GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Chicago, March 21.—John B. Koetters was found guilty of murdering Mrs. Emma Kraft, of Cincinnati, and his punishment was fixed at life imprisonment. The jury took the case yesterday afternoon. Koetters killed Mrs. Kraft in a Chicago hotel with a hammer, after obtaining possession of her money.

The crime was committed November 14, 1912. Mrs. Kraft was 60 years old and had been a widow for years. She became infatuated with Koetters, who was 25 years old, and gave him property in Cincinnati for $3,000. Koetters, believing that he had failed to get all of her money, followed her to Chicago, murdered her and fled. A long search for Koetters was fruitless until he was accidentally recognized in San Francisco, where he had tried to cheat a woman with whom he kept a lodging house.

Koetters had tried unsuccessfully to induce the San Francisco woman to insure her life in his favor. She became afraid of him and reported it to the police.

Koetters persistently denied guilt of the murder and sought to prove that he was not in Chicago with Mrs. Kraft. His attempt to prove an alibi did not impress the jurors, who quickly voted him guilty, but spent several hours to determine the punishment.

Get the Personal Touch!

Sixes or fours—the Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company makes both. Our idea is to suit the public taste. We are not trying to cram either down your throat. We want you to try them both, sit in the driver's seat, get the feel of the car, note carefully the action of the engine, the brakes and the steering apparatus. You can get the pulse of any car by doing the driving yourself. And you can't get it any other way.

You ought to know your own car even if you hire a driver. You ought to know it before you buy it. That definite process of acquiring information will often save you a lot of money and worlds of trouble. It eliminates all element of risk. You buy with your eyes open, and you don't buy through the eyes of somebody else who might happen to be prejudiced. We believe that anything which costs as much as an automobile ought to be bought that way—and no other way.

We are asking prospective customers to buy Mitchells that way. We are asking them to drive the car themselves and get what is known as "the feel of the car." It can't be gotten by sitting in the tonneau or even alongside the driver. The only way to reach the pulse of a car is through the steering wheel. The matter of detail may be learned afterwards if the car behaves well enough to arouse your interest. We think the Mitchell car whether Six or Four is the buy of the year. Try it yourself and see how close we have come to the truth.

Here is the Equipment for all the Mitchell Models Which Is Included in the List Prices:

Electric self-starter and generator—Electric lights—Electric horn—Electric magnetic exploring lamp—Speedometer—Tire carrier—Extra rim—Fifty mile non-stop action ride curtains—Quick-action two-piece rain vision wind-shield—Demountable rims with one extra—Speed indicator—Tire irons—Jack—Tire pump—Tool kit—Bag for holding the above—License plate bracket—Pump, jack and complete set of first-class tools.

Beautiful Dinner-Dance.

Mr. Cater Woolford gave a beautiful dinner-dance at the Georgian Terrace hotel last evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Wells. The party assembled at 8 o'clock in the lounge, and were served dinner in the private dining room on the Mezzanine floor.

In the dining room the decorations were beautiful in their suggestion of the Easter season, the table, oblong in shape, had as center piece a gilded basket filled with jonquils, narcissi, and white lilacs, two smaller baskets were at each end of the table, holding the same flowers, and garlands of smilax were etched on the white cloth. The place cards were painted in a design of jonquils, and during dinner a silver tray, passed held the dainties of favors, appropriate to the occasion. The menu served was delicious. After dinner, an orchestra presented a bright musical program in the little ball-room adjoining.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Wells, Mrs. W. P. Coolidge, Miss Carolyn King, Miss Alice May Freeman, Miss Cobbie Vaughn, Miss Mary Hines; Miss Carolyn Muse, Miss Lillian Logan, Mr. Norman Coolidge, Dr. J. T. William, Mr. Julian Thomas, Mr. P. S. Gamble, Mr. Remsen King, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peeples, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Prade, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Thiesen, Mr. W. C. Hill, Mr. Palmer Johnson and Mr. Prince Webster.

Bridge Party for Visitors.

Miss Bessie Kempton's bridge party yesterday afternoon at home on Ponce de Leon avenue was a pretty compliment to Miss Mary Lane, the guest of Miss Mabel Hurt; Miss Hester Hill, of Anderson, Ind., the guest of Miss Elizabeth Hines; Miss Evelyn Whitesides, who is visiting Miss Fannie Hinton, and Miss Louise Scarborough, of Columbus, the guest of Miss Emma Jordan.

Violets, daffodils and hyacinths, artistically arranged, decorated the rooms. The prize for top score and for each honor guest was a pair of silk stockings and the consolation was an embroidered Armenian handkerchief. Miss Kempton wore a gown of black olga crepe and taffeta. There were twelve guests.

For Dr. and Mrs. Walker.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian will entertain at a reception Monday evening at the church for Dr. and Mrs. Walker, who will leave Tuesday for Long Beach, Cal., to make their home.

Afternoon Bridge Party.

Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman entertained at two tables of bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street for Miss Ida Grant, of St. Louis, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert Collier.

Daffodils and yellow tulips attractively decorated the apartments.

The prizes for the top score and for the guest of honor were dainty pieces of hand-made lingerie.

Mrs. Hinman's becoming gown was of blue faille silk combined with moire and saffron yellow crepe de chine.

For Misses Walker.

The Young Girls' Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will entertain Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Gay, on Juniper street, in honor of Misses Elizabeth, Jennie and Ruth Walker, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Walker, who leave next week to make their home in Long Beach, Cal.

42 Club Entertained.

The Forty-Two club was delightfully entertained Thursday afternoon by Miss E. Whatley at the home of Mrs. John Justis. After the game delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Neil Dunning made top score.

Those present, besides the regular members, were Mrs. Boland, Mrs. Moncrief and Mrs. Burgess.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Will Calloway, on Cherokee avenue.

Parent-Teacher Meeting.

The Parent-Teacher club of Fair Street school will meet Wednesday, April 1, at 3:30 o'clock, at the school. Dr. Frances Bradley will address the club, and an interesting afternoon is assured all who attend.

A cordial invitation is extended all interested in child welfare.

Chapter Meeting.

On account of illness Chapter No. 9 of All Saints' guild will not meet as usual at the home of Mrs. Comer. The meeting will be at the church after the 4 o'clock service.

For Mrs. Meador.

Mrs. Thomas D. Meador entertained at bridge last night for her daughter, Mrs. Robert Lowry Meador. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Maude, Mr. and Mrs. William Meador, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Fitten, Mr. Fred Lewis and Mr. E. E. Belenger.

JAMES ROBERT PAGETT DIES FROM APOPLEXY

James Robert Pagett, of the J. R. Pagett Fertilizer works, died suddenly Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock at his residence, 131 Forrest avenue, from an attack of apoplexy. He was for twenty-four years with A. D. Adair and McCarty brothers.

Mr. Pagett complained Monday night of not being well, and Tuesday morning his condition was much worse. He was hardly conscious when the physicians arrived, and died soon afterward. He had been in ill health for a year, but had kept on working.

Surviving him are his wife, one son, Charles E. Pagett, and two daughters, Mrs. S. R. Bridges and Miss Annie Lou Pagett. Mr. Pagett was 60 years old. He was born in Anderson, S. C. and moved to this city about 1890. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, and was a member of the Capital City club. His death is regretted by many friends throughout this section of the state.

Funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the First Methodist church, Reverends Belk and DuBose officiating. Interment will be in the cemetery at Stone Mountain, Ga.

LAST CALL ANSWERED BY JUDGE RICHARDSON

Birmingham, Ala., March 31.—Judge William Richardson, who had represented the eighth Alabama district in congress since his election to fill an unexpired term in the fifty-sixth session, died at Atlantic City, N. J., after being in poor health several years.

In Washington, March 31.—As a mark of respect to Judge William Richardson, late representative from the eighth Alabama district, the house adjourned today, when Representative Underwood announced the death of his colleague at Atlantic City, N. Colonel Ragan Gives Housekeepers Lesson on "City Beautiful" Plan

By Isma Dooly.

This morning, Colonel Willis Ragan gives the housekeepers of Atlanta an illuminated lesson in the meaning of a "city beautiful," in the beauty of the flowers and the perfect condition of his front yard and lawn, the corner of Peachtree and Kimball streets.

Defying the rain, and heralding the Easter season, are hundreds of bright-colored blooming hyacinths, bordering the walk to the entrance of his home and forming semi-circles on the lawn around the house. Gold-lighted crocus are bursting from circular beds on each side of the front garden, and a line of vivid blue hyacinths can be seen as far as the eye reaches along the south side of the house.

"I must stay all day and see more of these beautiful gardens," said a lady tourist stopping at the Georgian Terrace hotel, and seeing Colonel Ragan's flowers across the street.

Looking for Flowers.

"I have heard of the lovely homes here; I wish to see more of these flowers"—and she engaged a taxicab and drove out the street, that she might see the well-studded lawns and slopes of green grass, and she came back after the drive.

"Why is it, in this glorious climate, where you could all have such beautiful flowers, do you not have more of them? I was so disappointed," was the comment after the drive.

"Why, the ladies, many of them, have gardens in the back of the house," explained a loyal Atlantan.

"But the lawns were not green, either, except one or two I saw, these keep proving that the grass could be made beautiful if someone had tried to make it so."

Whereas there are many Atlanta housekeepers who are fortunate in having backyards in which they can cultivate flowers, only the family, the green grocer man, the ice man and others can enjoy it, and, though it is praiseworthy to have aesthetic back premises, it does seem that, with the campaign now on for "Atlanta beautiful," there should have been a greater interest on the part of Atlanta's good housekeepers in making the front premises more ornate. Many have planted the pretty hardy shrubs which can be grown in any climate, but at this particular season, when only in this climate can the hyacinths and jonquils and violets, the crocus, the lily and similar flowers be seen so soon, why should the opportunity for so much beauty be overlooked?

They Are Busy.

It is true Atlanta women are busy—very busy—and their homes are charming and hospitable, and they entertain as few women do, but they certainly have had "one pulled over them," in the words of the slangy boy, when they have let Colonel Ragan be the only "housekeeper" in Atlanta to herald Easter with a front garden all aglow with sweet-smelling hyacinths of every hue. They are white and rose, and tinted like the enchantress carnation. The little crocus flowers just peeping from the ground show gold lights, and then there are hyacinths purple and dark blue.

Now, it is true many prefer lawns smooth and green, and some landscape garden artists declare that the color scheme in flowers belongs in the rear; but to few of the lawns are smooth and green and well groomed for spring's annual visit. Trees cannot be blamed for it with their too sympathetic shade, for so many of the beautiful trees have been ruthlessly destroyed. Therefore, the question still is, why has Colonel Ragan been the only housekeeper on our principal thoroughfare to herald Easter with flowers set so charmingly on a well-kept green lawn?

ELKS' CHARITY BENEFIT PROVES A BIG SUCCES

New Members of Cast Win Many Friends by Their Fine Acting.

The Elks' charity benefit performance of "The Genius," produced by he Players' Club of Atlanta at the Grand opera house last night, was well played and staged and made up altogether a most enjoyable evening.

The curtain-raiser given by Miss Katheryn Wheaton and Guy T. Murray won them the approval of the audience. Their steps in the Brazilian Maxixe were indeed graceful.

The acting of Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin in the role of Nell Graham was a very finished piece of work and greatly enjoyed. Other new members in the cast were Miss Frances Clarke as Lilly Scott, the giggling girl; Lamar Hill as Le Mercier, the artist, and Frankfin M. Mikell as Cyrus Jenkins. Although these newcomers in the cast had but a short time in which to learn their parts, the acting last night was done remarkably well. The members of the cast of the first production were quite up to their standards of Shrove Tuesday night.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE PARTY HEARS FINE ADDRESSES

About one hundred members of the equal suffrage party of Georgia held an enthusiastic meeting last night in the convention hall at the Piedmont hotel. Mrs. Emily C. McDougald, chairman of the party, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Linton Hopkins and Dr. Rebecca C. Brannon made addresses along the lines of what it will mean to womankind when the legislature awards them equal suffrage.

SWISS BELL RINGERS PLEASE HIGH SCHOOL

A double concert was given Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Girls' High school by a company of Swiss bell ringers. Both entertainments were successful, the evening affair drawing a particularly large house. The proceeds will be devoted to the improvement of the school.

ASK BONDS IN COLUMBUS FOR EXHIBIT BUILDINGS

Columbus, Ga., March 31.—(Special.) At a meeting tonight of citizens and city officials, it was decided to petition city council tomorrow night to call an election on the issuance of $50,000 of bonds for the erection of permanent fair buildings. This is in line with the movement to have an annual fair in Columbus.

Good Eating at Low Cost

We eat far too much meat. We eat meat in excess under the mistaken idea that it is necessary to nourish our bodies, while we continually pass up foodstuffs that (weight for weight) contain more nutriment and cost considerably less than meat.

Take Faust Macaroni for instance. A 10c package of this macaroni contains as much nutriment as four pounds of beef, and has another big advantage, too, in that it is much easier digested.

And consider the many savory, appetizing dishes that can be made from Faust Macaroni. Write for free recipe book today. Your grocer sells Faust Macaroni—5c and 10c packages. Buy today.

BAD DIZZY SPELLS CURED BY BLACK-DRAUGHT

An Old Man, Hearing the Century Mark, Tells How His Wife and Self Conquered Their Troubles

Fonticla, Va.—Mr. W. H. Ogden, of this town, says: "I am in my eighty-third year, and sometimes have bad dizzy spells, but a dose of Thedford's Black-Draught will relieve me in twenty minutes.

My wife suffered with cramp colic, sick headache and catarrh. She took Black-Draught, which cured her of all three troubles. She also suffered terribly, for years, with neuralgia in her side, and could get nothing to do her any good until she tried Thedford's Black-Draught, which has relieved her almost entirely.

We can also recommend Black-Draught for kidney trouble. In fact, we find Black-Draught all that is claimed for it, and more, and are never without it in the house."

Thedford's Black-Draught, the old reliable, vegetable liver medicine has been on the market for over 70 years. Since then, many imitations of this remedy have come and gone, but the sales of the only genuine, Thedford's, has steadily increased through all these years. It is, today, the medicine from which its users say you will get the quickest, safest and most reliable results in disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Good for old people, and good for their children and grandchildren, as well. Only costs one cent a dose. Try it today.

B'NAI B'RITH MEET COMES TO A CLOSE

Delegates From Five States More Than Satisfied With Work Accomplished.

One of the most successful sessions in the forty years' history of district number five, Independent Order B'Nai B'Rith, came to a close late Tuesday in Atlanta with the winding up of routine business.

The sixty delegates and many visitors from five southern states who have been here expressed themselves last night as being more than satisfied with the results of the convention.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Jewish Orphans' home, which took place simultaneously with the convention of the B'Nai B'Rith, will probably mark the foundation stone for national emphasis of work by the Jewish people in this country, according to leaders of the order here.

The two sessions on Tuesday which closed the B'Nai B'Rith convention proved interesting in the matter of the lively discussion among the delegates as to how to further the work of securing a permanent endowment fund for the Jewish Orphan home here. Nothing definite came of the discussion for the reason that the delegates will make reports to the local organidations which they represent and in turn report back to the orphanage committee at next year's gathering.

The last session of the convention adjourned shortly before 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Luncheon was served the delegates at the Jewish Orphan home during the noon hour. After the adjournment, the visitors were taken on an automobile tour of the city.

FIGHTING AT TORREON IN VERY LAST DITCH

Driven from the barracks in Torreon the federals would be subjected to whatever measure of slaughter General Villa chose to mete out to them.

Huerta Reinforcements Repulsed.

Eagle Pass, Texas, March 31.—American ranchmen arriving here today from the interior reported that the constitutionalist force under General Murgia has repulsed federal reinforcements under Colonel Acosta, trying to enter Torreon. Colonel Acosta is said to have commanded about 900 men. The fight with Murgia's troops occurred at Hipolito, midway between Monterey and Torreon, and resulted in the withdrawal of the federal force toward Saltillo.

Three federal soldiers from the federal garrison at Piedras Negras attempted to desert today by swimming the Rio Grande. They succeeded in crossing the river, but sighting a patrol of American soldiers, attempted to swim back across the river. One of them was drowned and the other two were captured by a federal outpost.

CONFLICTING REPORTS REACH WASHINGTON

Washington, March 31.—Three official telegrams were received at the state department tonight from Consul Hanna, American diplomatic representative at Durango, Mex., concerning the reported capture of Torreon by General Villa's forces. When they had been deciphered officials expressed the opinion that Torreon had not been taken.

The first two messages were dated yesterday and reported that the federals were evacuating Torreon. The third telegram, however, dated today, explained that the previous messages were "premature and unreliable." It added that large federal reinforcements were arriving at Torreon "from the east." It was explained that strong federal reinforcements for Torreon left Saltillo Saturday morning and were scheduled to arrive at Torreon tonight.

The long expected battle in the neighborhood of Tampico is still in abeyance, according to reports today from naval officers. Admiral Fletcher today transmitted to the navy department from Vera Cruz a report by Admiral Mayo at Tampico, stating that the federal gunboat Vera Cruz was engaged yesterday in flying from the country beyond Dona Cecilia, where the presence of the vanguard of the constitutionalist attacking force is supposed to be located.

Two hundred troops were loaded on the Mexican gunboat aragosa yesterday at Vera Cruz and dispatched to Tampico to reinforce the federal garrison there.

NO MORE CIRCULATION FOR VILLA CURRENCY

Agua Priota, Sonora, Mexico, March 31.—Orders prohibiting further circulation of so-called "Villa currency" were received today from Benjamin Aurirre, secretary of the treasury of the Carranza cabinet, who instructed constitutionalist officials in Agua Priota to transmit them to all insurgent officials in Sonora.

The principal reason for the orders was said to be the issuance by counterfeiters of bogus "Villa" bills amounting to 1,000,000 pesos. Sonora people are being assured that the "Villa currency" now in their hands will be redeemed by a new constitutionalist issue, which will be shipped from New York within two weeks.

MISSING BOY KILLED BY KICK OF A HORSE

Philadelphia, March 31.—Warren McCarrick, the 7-year-old boy missing since March 12, was kicked to death by a horse attached to a farm wagon near the boy's home, according to a letter received late today by Robert Cameron, captain of detectives. The writer, who has not revealed his identity or the location of his farm, declares the boy's hoop rolled under his horse, and that when the child tried to get it he was kicked on the head.

The farmer placed the boy in the wagon and started to drive to a hospital, according to the letter, but finding the boy was dead, became panic-stricken and took the body to his farm and buried it. He declares he will reveal the spot where the body is buried if he is promised immunity. McCarrick is convinced the mystery surrounding his son's disappearance is solved.

Hit By Lightning.

Rome, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—W. F. Mercy, superintendent of the Rome Brick company, was struck by lightning yesterday during a thunderstorm and seriously injured. He was standing under a shed and the lightning followed the electric wires, knocking the man unconscious. His lower limbs were paralyzed, and his feet badly burned, but his condition is not dangerous and he will recover.

R. L. BROTHERTON DIES IN NEW ORLEANS HOME

R. L. Brotherton, son of the late Police Commissioner W. H. Brotherton, and well known in Atlanta, died in New Orleans Tuesday at noon after a long term of ill health.

Mr. Brotherton had made New Orleans his home for the past five years, but spent much of his time traveling through the west for his health. Previous to moving to New Orleans he was in the retail stove business with his brother, F. M. Brotherton, in this city.

He is survived by five brothers, W. M., C. H., F. M., E. L., and H. P. Brotherton; three sisters, Mrs. L. L. Small, Mrs. George L. Walker and Mrs. John Berry; and by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Brotherton. All reside in Atlanta except Mrs. Berry, whose home is in Rome.

The body will arrive in Atlanta Thursday and funeral arrangements will be announced later. Mr. Brotherton was 38 years old.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FORMED AT CARROLLTON

Carrollton, Ga., March 31.—(Special.) The Carrollton Chamber of Commerce met in enthusiastic meeting this afternoon and organized with a membership of one hundred and thirty. The amount collected from the amount subscribed by the members is over $1,400. The constitution and by-laws as suggested and outlined by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce were unanimously adopted with but few changes.

The nominating committee composed of Hon. W. J. Millican, C. K. Henderson and Professor J. H. Melson was appointed, and nominated as board of directors J. K. Smith, J. A. Mandeville, A. K. Snead, C. E. Roop, R. F. Hyatt and Leon Hood. Captain Bradley, the field secretary for the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, was present and made an interesting and enthusiastic talk. The board of directors met immediately, and the different committees will be immediately organized and work will begin in earnest.

LAVERNE STOCK PLAYERS ON WAY TO DIXIE LAND

New York, March 31.—(Special.)—The fifteen members of the Lucille LaVerne company, which opens its spring and summer engagement at either the Grand or the Lyric, Atlanta Ga., Easter Monday, are now saying their last farewells for the season to Broadway. They will sail Wednesday afternoon, step on Georgia soil at Savannah bright and early Friday morning, and arrive in Atlanta Friday afternoon.

Miss LaVerne's energy is indefatigable and in her endeavor to secure the very best people available it is estimated that she has interviewed about three hundred actors. Rehearsals were well under way last week and will be continued on the boat.

Miss LaVerne is loved by all the members of her company, but they claim she is a slave driver at rehearsing, to which she smilingly replies that the stumbling and forgetting of lines so frequent on opening performances is unknown in her shows—the first performance is as smooth and finished as the last.

50,000 Miners Idle.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 31.—With few exceptions, every Ohio coal mine closed tonight indefinitely. It is estimated 50,000 men were thrown out of employment. The last legislature enacted a law to pay miners on a run-of-the-mine basis, instead of on the prevalent screen payment plan, and this law caused the present shutdown. Although the new wage system does not become effective until May 15, operators refuse to renew wage contracts which expire tomorrow, until conditions become more settled.

Italian Aviator Killed.

Turin, Italy, March 31.—Lieutenant Griffa, an army aviator, was killed today while attempting a somersault with an aeroplane.

EASY TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

With a Wonderful Preparation That Is Not Sticky or Mussy. Harmless, Darkens Evenly.

To darken your gray, white, faded, streaked or permanently gray hair try the following: Get from any druggist a 7-oz. bottle of Q-Ban. On retiring apply it to the hair and scalp like a shampoo. Use enough Q-Ban to moisten the hair and scalp. Then let hair fall free and dry all night. The gray disappears and a few more applications of Q-Ban your hair is beautifully darkened so evenly and naturally no one will suspect you use Q-Ban. In addition, Q-Ban gives the hair that fascinating appearance of abundance and beauty which is so attractive. It also dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and vigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair and promotes its growth. Q-Ban gives a delightful feeling of refreshment and cleanliness of the scalp—as Q-Ban is not sticky or messy, has a mild pleasant odor; safe to use and always beautifully darkens the hair. Big 7-oz. bottle 50c, sold and guaranteed by Edmondson Drug Stores, 11 N. Broad and 108 N. Pryor streets, Atlanta, Ga. Out-of-town people supplied by mail—(adv.)

THEY HAULED REPEATERS FROM BOOTH TO BOOTH

Terre Haute, Ind., March 31.—Three men, John Lindsay, Hubert Kintz and Edwin Wise, testifying for the state in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, charged with election frauds, today declared they had been hired by Roberts to haul repeaters during the registration last October and had been paid by him for the work. The three are connected with a garage. The men told of hauling several parties of repeaters from one booth to another. Chief of Police Edward Holler, who was sentenced to jail for contempt of court by Judge Charles M. Fortune, today was released tonight on bond of $1,000 pending an appeal. Walter A. Myers, a witness for the state, told the court that Chief Holler had suggested that he forget many of the incidents connected with the registration when he testified.

"TATTOOED BANDIT" CAUGHT BY OFFICERS

Bellingham, Wash., March 31.—Charles Hopkins, known as the tattooed bandit, was surprised and arrested early today at Van Horn, on the Upper Skagit river, by Marshal Joseph Glover, of Concrete, and a posse of citizens. He was asleep when caught.

Hopkins killed Anton Olsen and seriously wounded John Freeman at McMurray last Saturday night because they had only a few cents to give him when he held them up. He was arrested by a policeman in Everett last week, but seized a pistol from his captor's pocket and wounded him and two citizens who interfered. He is charged with the murder of Charles Hedges in a Seattle lodging house in January and with other murders in various districts of the northwest.

"Adele"—best musical play of the year—opens at the Atlanta tonight. See it.

How Constitution Space Sells Haberdashery for L. C. Adler

L. C. ADLER
NEXT TO PIEDMONT HOTEL HABERDASHER BELL PHONE, IVY 4887
STYLES 24 HOURS FROM BROADWAY

ATLANTA, GA., March 27, 1914.

Mr. P. T. BARBOUR,
Advertising Manager,
The Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:--Since I hesitated about inserting large copy in The Constitution to advertise my haberdashery, it may please you to know that your advice to use large copy has been justified by the results.

My advertisement of March 18th in The Constitution was four columns wide and eighteen inches deep, occupying seventy-two inches. It dominated the page on which it appeared.

Results from it have been so remarkable, many of them so unexpected, and the general response so spontaneous, that I feel they are worthy of comment.

As an instance of the far-reaching influence of such an advertisement, I received today an order for three five dollar ties from a small town in Georgia--a town in which no merchant of Atlanta would expect to sell goods of such high price and quality. This instance shows that the highest grade of goods go to the smallest Georgia cities, and that we who handle such goods should advertise them in a paper which reaches those prosperous localities.

Thanking you for your interest in pushing my business, I remain,

Yours,
L. C. ADLER.

Keith Estate to Son.

Boston, March 31.—A. Paul Keith, announced today that his father, Benjamin F. Keith, who died in Florida last week, had appointed him executor of his will and left him the residue of the estate after making numerous minor bequests, and providing for his widow. The amount of the estate was not given. The theatrical business established by B. F. Keith was acquired some time ago by his son and Edward F. Albee.

Why Do French Women Always Look Young?

In France mothers and daughters look like sisters. How are the women there able to retain their youthful looks until long past middle age? Is it because they are much given to the use of mercolized wax? This wax possesses a remarkable absorbent property which quickly removes the fine particles of cuticle which are constantly drying and which are the immediate cause of an old-looking complexion. Thus the livelier, healthier, younger skin beneath is given a chance to breathe and show itself. Try this treatment yourself. Most likely it will not require two weeks to make your complexion as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. Just one ounce of mercolized wax (all American druggists have it) usually does the work. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings.

Another valuable secret with which the French are familiar is how to quickly remove wrinkles. One ounce of powdered saxolite dissolved in a half pint witch hazel, makes a marvelously effective astringent lotion. The face should be bathed in this daily until even the deepest lines are affected.—(adv.)

COTTON MADE GAIN THEN DROPPED IT

Early Advance Was Followed by Decline When the March Shorts Had Covered.

New York, March 31.—A sharp early advance in cotton was followed by an equally sharp decline, with the close steady, net 4 points lower to 2 points higher. Reactionary sentiment seemed to gain ground after the last March short had covered, although there was no change in the general character of the news, and the market was steadied toward the close by a renewed demand for May and July cotton from leading spot brokers.

There was active covering by old crop shorts at the start, and after opening steady at an advance of 2 to 5 points, active months sold about 9 to 14 points net higher. Relatively steady cables and private advices from Manchester, claiming that spinners had decided not to close down their mills for Easter week owing to an improved demand from China and India, undoubtedly stimulated early demand.

Bullish southern spot advices also had some influence, while there was buying of new crop positions, which seemed to be encouraged by reports of unfavorable weather in the south and talk of delayed crop preparations in the southwest.

There were no large blocks of March wanted, but there were quite a good many small buying orders around the ring, and it was estimated that about 16,000 bales were traded in during the morning. The demand from March shorts was supplied at about 80 points over May, however, and as soon as this support slackened the whole list sagged off. March broke from 13.40 to 13.25, with the last sale at 13.27, and after selling at 12.60 on the early advance, May eased off to 12.40 on the afternoon reaction. Closing prices were 2 or 3 points up from the lowest, on covering and trade buying.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 31.—Cotton fell off today after an advance in the early trading. The demand from buyers for long account was good around the opening and even at the decline later, but profit-taking became heavy and it weighed against the market. The close was within a point of the lowest, the trading months standing at a net loss for the day of 1 to 5 points.

At the highest of the day prices were 6 to 8 points over yesterday's final quotations. The demand was based on good cables and reports of a continued large demand for cloths in Manchester. The weather map was called unfavorable, because of rains over the belt and promise of more, and stimulated buying to some extent.

May was the strongest month, shorts being nervous and inclined to cover on reports that mills would take up cotton on contracts in that month.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 31.—The foreign markets were better than due this morning and early prices marked the continuation of the recent advance with further heavy arbitrage purchases of both May and July. The level of today's market was nearly a cent a pound above the prices prevailing early in the month, so that realizing on the part of outside holders in the summer months seemed only mutual. These sales checked the advance, bringing about a decline at the close to below last night's figures. Weather conditions south were again unfavorable owing to heavy rains in the central belt which will further delay planting. So far it cannot fairly be said that the crop has been seriously delayed, but complaints begin to come from the west and from the central belt and the weather should therefore be closely watched.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, March 31.—May ran up 40 points over July this morning and then the big spot people hammered it and closed it 4 points down, while July closed unchanged. New crop months were 1 to 2 points up. It looks as if the hammering of May was simply a play of the shorts and if the May longs sit tight May will go very high. Liverpool is due to come 5 points down on May-June and 3½ points down on July-August.

The bull crowd in coffee made a desperate fight today, but the market broke 20 points in spite of them. There was no reason for the recent advance, it being entirely the result of manipulation of foreign interests who have coffee to sell. Coffee is too high and should be sold.

No General Stoppage.

Manchester, England, March 31.—The general stoppage during Easter week of the mills in this district spinning American cotton decided on last week by the employers, was abandoned today, owing to the strong objection raised by the workers. The condition of the cotton trade has led the employers to arrange a cessation of production, but the Master Spinners' association has resolved to leave individual firms to act according to their own desires.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 31.—Cotton yarns were easier and lower today. Cotton goods were steady with purchasing fair in gray goods. Uncertainty as to styles is hampering the final silk business. Foreign carpets and rugs are being sold more freely here than had been expected.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, March 31.—Cotton seed oil was higher early on demand from shorts and new buying for long account, but towards the close futures sagged off with the setback in lard. Final prices were 3 points higher for April, 1 higher for May and generally 2 and 3 lower for the balance of the list. The market closed barely steady. Spot 7.51 bid. Futures ranged as follows:

	Open.	Close.
April		7.54@7.60
May	7.52@7.53	7.51@7.52
June	7.57@7.61	7.54@7.56
July	7.63@7.64	7.60@7.61
August	7.70@7.72	7.68@7.70
September	7.70@7.75	7.67@7.68
October	7.15@7.18	7.20@7.23
November	6.65@7.10	6.75@7.05

Memphis, March 31.—Cotton seed products, prime basis: Oil 6.40; meal $26.50@27.00; linters 2¼@3⅜.

Naval Stores.

Savannah, Ga., March 31.—The season of 1913-14 in the naval stores business, closing at 4 o'clock this afternoon, witnessed a considerable decrease in the crop movement. There was a shortage in receipts of turpentine amounting to 13,687 barrels, while rosins were short of the totals of the season preceding by 94,381 barrels.

The outward movement showed a decrease of 13,240 barrels of turpentine and 94,975 barrels of rosins. The stock of turpentine on hand for the last day of the season was 2,915 barrels less than at the same time last year, while rosins showed a stock increase of 9,219 barrels.

Prices, as a whole, were very unsatisfactory and producers did not realize actual costs of production, but the new season through reduction of box cutting is expected to prove shorter in supply and more satisfactory as to prices.

Savannah, Ga., March 31.—Turpentine steady at 46⅜; receipts 268. Rosin firm; receipts 1,559; B and D $3.75; E $3.77½; F $3.90; G $3.95; H $4.10; I $4.12½; K $4.15; M $4.60; N $5.50; window glass $5.85; waterwhite $6.20.

THOUSANDS RIDE FREE ON THE STREET CARS

Toledo, Ohio, March 31.—Thousands of citizens of Toledo continued to ride free today on cars operated by the Toledo Railways and Light company, the city solicitor having advised that passengers refuse to pay a fare of more than 3 cents as provided by an ordinance that recently went into effect, and the company declining to accept anything but a fare of 5 cents. Persons who insisted they would pay no more than the 3-cent fare were allowed to ride free, the company declining to recognize the ordinance over which litigation has been initiated.

WHEAT DECLINED ABOUT ONE CENT

Corn, Oats and Provisions Also Lower—Wheat Market Closed Heavy—Factors in Decline.

Chicago, March 31.—Radical bearish sentiment as to wheat developed today because of the brilliant crop outlook and in consequence of the total lack of exports. The market had no good reaction and closed heavy, 7-8 to 1 cent under last night. Corn finished 5-8 to 3-4 to 1c down and oats off 5-8 to 3-4c. In provisions the outcome varied from 10c decline to an advance of 2 1-2c.

Liquidating sales on the part of big holders formed an important element in the situation regarding wheat, but the downward pressure was by no means confined to longs. In view of further rains over western Kansas, relieving apprehension of drouth in that region, the main body of speculators accepted the crop promise as perfect on the greatest acreage ever reported for April, 1, and there was soon evidence that the widening break was fast bringing into action many stop-loss orders. Notwithstanding a big falling off in the world's available stock of wheat, no authentic trace could be obtained of any export business being done. The actual seaboard clearances did not include a single bushel of domestic wheat. Furthermore, milling demand was at a minimum, and there were increasing quantities of new wheat being offered for sale here to arrive in July.

The corn trade became semi-demoralized as a result of the cheapest offers yet from Argentina. Besides, westbound rail rates from New York are being cut in some particulars, and this was enlargement of the eastern inquiry for corn from here. It was said that 12,000,000 bushels of corn had been sold from Argentine ports for April-May shipments to American markets, and that, in addition, considerable was coming to the United States from India.

The weakness of corn and wheat was too much for the oats market. Speculation was emphasized by the big stock holdings here and 9 per cent increase of acreage in Oklahoma.

Provisions receded with grain. There was some substantial buying on the declines, thought to be for one of the leading packers.

STOCKS IMPROVED, STRENGTH SHOWN

Action of the Commission on Freight Rates Case Was Considered as Bullish.

New York, March 31.—The extent to which the speculative situation is bound up in the freight rates case was indicated today by the course of the stock market. The action of the interstate commerce commission in expediting the rails case foreshadowed an early decision, and as the financial community expects that the decision will be favorable to the railroads, the news was construed as distinctly bullish. The market responded strongly.

While the upturn was attributable primarily to the action of the commerce commission, it was influenced fundamentally by the strong technical portion of the market. Professional selling had been carried to a point which exposed the shorts to successful attack. In fact, the advance begun in the late session yesterday was resumed at the outset today before the announcement that the railroads would be permitted to complete their testimony immediately.

Other influences were at work on the conservative side. Estimates of the condition of winter wheat indicated a promising outlook. The London market was more cheerful and American stocks advanced there. London was a buyer here, taking perhaps 5,000 shares.

Despite the hopes for better business entertained by brokers in the early part of the year, trading thus far has been no heavier than in 1913. With the close of the market today, the first quarter of the year ended. During that time transactions in stocks were about 22,000,000 shares, compared with 22,500,000 shares last year. Bond sales this year were about $218,000,000, compared with $145,000,000 in 1913.

Bonds shared only in slight degree the general strength of the stock market. Total sales, $2,670,000. United States bonds declined from 1-8 to 1-2 on call.

TURPENTINE IS MIXED WITH MINERAL OILS

Washington, March 31.—Discovery of alleged widespread adulteration of turpentine with mineral oils caused the department of agriculture today to warn druggists and manufacturers of pharmaceutical products to exercise special caution in buying turpentines.

It has been discovered also, it is alleged, that turpentine sold to the country stores especially, as usually put out by dealers and manufacturers of grocer's sundries, is often from 5 to 10 per cent short in volume. Dealers are advised to protect themselves through a guarantee from the wholesaler that the receptacle contains the full declared volume.

The department asserts that turpentine may be adulterated in the south where it is made and that the further it gets away from there the more extensively and heavily it is adulterated.

ROCKEFELLERS TO GET GOULD RAILWAY LINES

New York, March 31.—The strength and activity of Missouri Pacific railroad shares today served to give credence to recent reports that the Gould interests in that property and other roads are to be taken over in the near future by a group of capitalists more or less directly connected with the Standard Oil company. The Rockefellers have long been active in some of the Gold properties, including Missouri Pacific, but if the project now said to be under way is consummated, Missouri Pacific and other important parts of the Gold system will come under absolutely new ownership.

Bankers representing both the Standard Oil and Gold interests declined today to confirm the reports, yet they would not deny that some deal of importance is pending.

DAY OF THE REVIVALIST DECLARED TO BE OVER

Mount Vernon, N. Y., March 31.—The day of the old-fashioned revivalist, or evangelist leader, is over, in the opinion of the New York East conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The conference today voted to abolish the present evangelist commission after a debate upon the merits of evangelists and the ability of pastors to conduct their own evangelistic work. Dr. James E. Holmes, superintendent of the Brooklyn and Long Island Church society, contended that the continuation of the commission would be a reflection on the ability and power of the district superintendents.

ALL THE NEW TARIFFS HAVE BEEN SUSPENDED

Washington, March 31.—All new tariffs filed by railroads eliminating allowances to industrial railroads were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission until July 30 with the exception of those affecting the United States Steel corporation and other iron and steel companies which were permitted to stand.

Approximately 4,000 tariffs were suspended. They would have become effective at midnight and were submitted in compliance with the commission's findings in the industrial railways case, in which it was held that allowances and divisions of rates made by trunk lines with certain industrial railways operated by iron and steel companies in eastern territory, in effect, were rebates and should be discontinued. No tariffs affecting the industrial railways covered by the decision in the industrial railways case were suspended. Only those industrial railways that have not had "their day in court" are granted a suspension of the tariffs affecting them.

Elimination of allowances and divisions with the industrial roads operated by the United States Steel corporation and other iron and steel companies in the east were permitted to stand. That will mean, unless the courts enjoin the trunk lines from discontinuing the allowances or the commission should give a rehearing of the industrial railways case, the tariffs will be effective against the steel corporation's roads and against those of other iron and steel companies.

It is estimated by experts of the commission that elimination of such payments would mean an annual loss to the steel corporation alone of about $9,000,000.

The order provides for hearings. No date has been fixed, but it is scarcely likely they will be held before next autumn, in which event it will be necessary for the commission before July 30 further to suspend the tariffs.

LYNCHERS USE KNIVES ON SLAYER OF WIFE

Santa Fe, N. M., March 31.—Twenty masked men early today took Adolfo Padilla, charged with murdering his wife, from the Santa Fe county jail to the nearest street corner and stabbed him repeatedly. He probably will die.

The party overpowered the jailer and taking his keys opened Padilla's cell and dragged him out. The mob quietly dispersed, leaving Padilla nearly dead in the street.

Relatives of his wife found her dying at the home of her mother last Saturday. Her throat had been slashed with a razor and both wrists cut.

CRACKERS AND BRAVES IN TIE

EIGHT INNINGS TO NO DECISION

Crackers and Braves Play 6 to 6—Hub Perdue Driven From Mound in the Opening Round.

Macon, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—Billy Smith's Crackers put up a closer article in baseball here this afternoon than the Boston Braves, and had just tied them in fast knot of six counters when the game was called for them to catch a train for Atlanta.

With a three-run lead, the Crackers had the Braves going for a time, and they worked manfully to overcome the disadvantage. Lawrence went well until the fifth, when he allowed three men to get their bases on balls, and he made the worse selection possible, for they were Evers, Maranville and Mann, who had an easy time loping in home. Cloudy weather worried the teams considerably, and it was almost necessary to use a searchlight at times to find the ball.

Price, who worked well for the Crackers last year, didn't fare so well with Boston, for the Braves got in five of the nine hits they made during the game. That much-talked-of Perdue, one of Stallings' finest, gave up four hits in the two innings he pitched, and Strand, who held from Dustie, allowed six hits.

The players on both sides appeared sluggish on account of the humidity of the weather, and it is believed that it will be a hotly-contested fight Friday when the two teams meet for further exhibition.

Jimmy Grant Unconscious for Hours After Fight With Knockout Eggers; Victor Is Taken to Police Station

At an early hour this morning, hours after the prizefight at the Orpheum Tuesday night was over, Jimmy Grant, of Atlanta, was still in an unconscious condition at the Grady hospital.

For ten rounds Knockout Eggers, of New York, had made a chopping block out of his opponent, hitting him at will, and receiving comparatively little punishment in turn. In the tenth, when the decision in favor of the New York lad had been announced, Grant collapsed.

At first it was thought that he was only suffering from the momentary exhaustion that often comes to a fighter after a hard battle in the ring.

Eggers Taken to Station.

However, when heroic measures at the Orpheum had failed he was taken in an unconscious condition to the Grady hospital, and Eggers was taken in charge by Officer Arthur and sent to police station pending a report on the condition of his victim.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning Eggers was released, but Grant was still unconscious.

Knockout Eggers, of New York, had a nice workout in his bout at the Orpheum theater. The only difference from his ordinary workout was he got paid for last night's.

Jimmy Grant acted as a punching bag for ten rounds, at the end of which he collapsed in his corner.

When he was not guarding his face with his gloves and elbows, Grant was receiving hooks, uppercuts and swings to his mid-section. When he uncovered his face Eggers peppered that part of his body.

Told Him Where to Hit.

The little New Yorker looked around the audience. Some one would tell him where to hit Grant, and he would accommodatingly respond. And at no time during the entire ten rounds did he open up at all.

Grant had the usual broken arm alibi of all defeated fighters. As a fighter he's a good bootblack.

The semi-windup between Kid Underwood, of Nashville, and Little, of Chicago, was a bear. The draw decision was eminently correct. They fought all the way and earnestly.

The opener between Kid Sheppard and Young Nelson was won by the former. These boys battled until they could hardly stand up.

Instead of proving to be one of the best cards that has ever been put on here, Grant's disappointing showing spoiled the evening's entertainment. If Jimmy cut loose a good punch during the entire ten rounds we failed to see it.

EMORY BASEBALL

Seniors Win From Sophs. Score 8 to 6.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The Juniors hold to their lead in the percentage column, after one game this afternoon.

CLUBS.	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Juniors	2	2	0	1.000
Seniors	2	1	1	.500
Sophomores	2	1	1	.500
Freshmen	1	0	1	.000

An exciting game of baseball, with all its thrills, was broken up this afternoon by Hicks and Senior outfielder, when he slammed out a home run and scored Rivers ahead of him. The score was tied, the man was down and a threatening rain had begun to cut short the game. When Hickson connected for his drive, the old game broke up and the Seniors, holding the big end of the score of 8 and 6 over the Sophomores.

Another of the thrills came when Outler, the Senior shortstop, purloined home and tied up the score. Thrills came again when the rain interfered with play for five minutes.

The game was protested and the Sophs took their half of the eighth. When the Seniors came in for their half all had been told. The reason for the abrupt ending of the pastime in the eighth round is the two-fold Agreement had been made for seven innings, and the rain secured this reason by beginning in sheets.

Lester, the Senior pitcher, began his ordeal of the afternoon with a painful sprained ankle. He kept up his fire, striking out nine Sophs and securing two hits. Bondurant, a Soph outfielder, was in the game at all stages, and kept one-run off the Senior total by a perfect peg to the plate when a runner lagged third on a long fly.

Old rain stopped the scheduled Junior-Freshmen game, which will be played at a later date to be arranged by the captains.

Seniors	.010 102 22—8	8	5

BILL'S REGULARS PLAY CLEVELAND

Naps and Crackers Battle Today and Thursday at Ponce de Leon—Doscher to Twirl.

Billy Smith and his Cracker Regulars returned to Macon last night. Today and Thursday, they will play the Cleveland Naps at Ponce de Leon park.

Jack Doscher will probably start the game for the Crackers with Rube Kisinger finishing. Munch will probably do the catching. The local battery order is not announced, as Bill is busy shifting it now to get the best combination.

The Naps' lineup will be the same as they used here on previous occasions, with the battery uncertain. The game will start at 3 o'clock. The admission fee will be 25 cents.

FEDS' BALTIMORE OPENING WILL BE A HALF HOLIDAY

Annapolis, Md., March 31.—The house of delegates late last night unanimously passed the Hammond bill to make April 13 a half holiday in Baltimore in honor of the opening of the Federal league baseball season.

Indications are that the resolution will meet with no opposition in the senate.

GAME CALLED OFF

Naps and Pepperites Balked Again by the Weather.

The scheduled pastime between the Naps and the Pepperites Cracker second team) was called off again yesterday, much to the disappointment.

Manager Dent, of the Pepperites, was itching to send his charges against Manager Nap Drake's men, but the weather man would not permit.

TOM JONES HERE

Manager of Ad Wolgast Visitor to Atlanta Tuesday.

Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast and Joe Rivers, arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon and was an interested spectator at the boxing show last night.

Jones brought Jess Willard with him. One of the white hope titled Rodel in the 10-round main bout at the Orpheum theater next Tuesday night.

AMERICAN TRACK TEAM BACK FROM ANTIPODES

San Francisco, Cal., March 31.—With four Australian and seventeenen state records to their credit, the four athletes composing the all-American track team arrived here today, ready to compete again in ten days. The men participated in twenty-one field days during a thirteen weeks' tour of the antipodes.

Among the records brought home was one in the mile run made by James A. Power, of the Boston Athletic association, who covered the distance in 4 minutes and 12 2-5 seconds, breaking Alfred Shrubbs' mark of nine years' standing. Power will make his best time for the distance ever made by an American athlete on Australian soil. Aside from individual performances the Americans won the team championship of Australia and New South Wales.

A. A. U. SOUTHERN MEET GOES TO BIRMINGHAM

New York, March 31.—The championship committee of the Amateur Athletic union tonight announced that it had awarded the A. A. U. all-round championships for 1914 to the Southern association of the A. A. U., to be held under the auspices of the Birmingham Athletic club at Birmingham, Ala.

GA.-W. VA. WESLEYAN GAME CALLED OFF

Athens, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—The Georgia-West Virginia Wesleyan baseball game was called off Tuesday afternoon on account of rain. If the weather permits a double-header will be played Wednesday afternoon on Sanford field.

Clark Wins From Talledega.

On a mud-covered diamond and with the clouds threatening rain every minute, Clark university's fast nine trimmed over the wiry aggregation from Talledega college in a game featured by some sensational doubles and a near triple.

Terrell, an Unknown, came to life by making only three hits, but invariably when the score was tied in the ninth inning, the latter got the hit that won the game. Final count 3 to 2.

The features of the game were the fielding of Holloway, Bell and Johnson and receiving by Scruggs for Clark, and the fielding of Magby for Talladega.

Score:	R.
Talladega	000 000 110—2
Clark	100 001 001—3

Another Fed Umps.

Chicago, March 31.—Ed Goeckel was added to the Federal league staff of umpires today, making nine. Goeckel made a good reputation on local semi-professional diamonds last year.

Pels Can Two.

New Orleans, March 31.—Manager Dobbs, of the New Orleans Southern association baseball team, has announced the release of Pitcher Gray Hill and Outfielder Edmondson. Hill becomes a free agent, while Edmondson goes to the Beaumont club, of the Texas league.

PINEHURST GOLF

Pinehurst, N. C., March 31.—Filmore K. Robeson, of the Pershing school, New York, today finished first in the qualification round of 36 holes in the fourteenth annual United North and South Men's Amateur Golf championship. His card today was 80 for 18 holes. In yesterday's 18-hole round his count was 79, giving him a card of 157 for the 36 holes.

Walter J. Travis, of the Geden City, Long Island, club, was second in the qualification with a 158 card: Third place went to R. S. Worthington, of the Shawnee club, Pennsylvania, who had a 160, while Chisholm Beach, of the Fox Hills, Long Island, club, was fourth with a card of 161.

DETAILS OF SCRIBES' GOLF MEET HAVE BEEN ARRANGED; TWO WEEKS TO FINISH PLAY

The final details of the golf tournament for the newspaper golfers of Atlanta were arranged by the committees in charge at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon.

The committee, W. S. Farnsworth, of The Georgian; Innis Brown, of The Journal, and Dick Jemison, of The Constitution, decided to start the tournament Monday, April 6, closing Monday, April 20.

There will be thirty-two entries, enough to fill two flights. The first round will determine the first and second flight men, the winners comprising the first flight and the losers the second.

It was decided to play the tournament over the course of the Capital City Country club, at Brookhaven, and to use stroke handicaps instead of hole handicaps as were used at East Lake last year.

First Round By Wednesday.

The first round must be played by Wednesday night, April 8; the second by Saturday night, April 11; the third round by Wednesday night, April 15, and the fourth round by Saturday night, April 18. The finals will be played Monday, April 20.

Stymies must be played in all matches, and the rules of the Capital City Country club will govern all other conditions that may arise.

Four prizes will be contested for. The Colonel Gentry trophy will go to the winner of the first flight. A cup purchased from the entry fees will go to the winner of the second flight.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. will give a handsome inlaid driver to the runner-up in the first flight. Parks-Chambers-Hardwick company will give a MacGregor brassie to the runner-up in the second flight.

A golf bag will be awarded to the man making the lowest medal score in the first eighteen holes played during the tournament. This score will be net, the handicap applying in each instance. Scores of the first round must be turned in to the golf committee.

The golf committee will present to each entrant in the tournament a list of the strokes and on which hole they will appear. This list will be furnished to all entrants either upon application or just as they are starting their first round.

Handicaps—Entry Fee.

An entrance fee of $1 will be required of each entrant, payable before the first round is played.

The handicap list is as follows:

1—Dick Jemison, W. L. Halstead.
5—Milt Saul, J. R. Gray, Jr.
7—P. W. Hammond.
11—Doc Atchison, Keats Speed.
8—W. M. Baskerville, T. Forbes, R. T. Smith.
9—F. W. Clarke.
12—Sol Cohen, W. S. Farnsworth, O. B. Keeler, Angus Perkerson, W. B. Seabrook.
13—P. T. Barbour, Mike Clofine, Innis Brown, Archie Lee, R. H. Rowe.
14—Evelyn Harris.
15—Sam Atkinson.
18—Roger Winter, J. R. Paschal, J. R.
24—Hank Price, Homer George.
36—J. D. Cortatowsky, Sis Falvey, Dudley Glass, George Auer.

Pairings.

The pairings for play in the first round will be announced to comprise the first flight and the losers the second, as follows:

Hammond v. Barbour.
Atchison v. Winter.
Price v. Saul.
Paschal v. Lee.
Forbes v. Harris.
Speed v. Clarke.
Jemison v. Akers.
Brown v. Seabrook.
Keeler v. Glass.
Smail v. Speed.
Gortatowsky v. Baskerville.
J. R. Gray v. Cohen.
J. R. Gray, Jr. v. Auer.
Rowe v. Falvey.
Halstead v. Farnsworth.
Clofine v. Perkerson.

Protests.

In the event that any detail arises over play of any shot, hole or match, protest by protesting player must be made at once and to the committee in writing not later than the day after the match or protest is made. This will prevent any delay in matches being decided or being played over if necessary.

LOCAL PREPS OPEN LEAGUE ON FRIDAY

Seven Teams in Organization This Year—Some Good Baseball Promised.

The lid of the local prep baseball league will be pried off officially Friday afternoon, April 3. Seven teams are in the league this year and all except six of them will be in action on the opening day.

Georgia Military Academy at Peacock-Pleet, Boys' High at Donald Pearce and Marist college at Stone Mountain is the card that will be played off Friday, if Jupiter Pluvius does not interfere with his wet ways. Boys' High will have an off day.

All of the seven schools in this league have strong teams this year and the outlook at every school is very bright. At each school a coach has been secured to help the team get in preparation for the opening of the season and this has been an immense help to all of them.

Boys' High won the pennant last year with a perfect percentage, not losing a single game to any of the opponents in the league, and the prospect for the team to again cop this year is very good.

Wallie Smith Hitting Ball Hard This Spring For Washington Club

Wallie Smith, ex-Cracker, now with Clark Griffith's Washington club, is stinging the ball on the nose this spring for that club.

Wallie is batting at a .545 clip for the four games he has played in, compiled from six hits in eleven trips to the plate.

BROOKLYN FEDERALS ARE INCORPORATED

Albany, N. Y., March 31.—Incorporation papers for the Brooklyn Federal league baseball club were filed today. The capital stock is given as $800,000 and the incorporators named are Wallace S. Ward, of Brooklyn, and William A. Evans and Charles Adams, of New Rochelle.

EXHIBITION DATES HAVE BEEN CHANGED

Boston Nationals Will Play Here Friday and Saturday Instead of Macon.

President Frank E. Callaway, of the local baseball club, received advice from Manager Billy Smith, from Macon yesterday, that he has switched a couple of the exhibition dates.

Instead of George Stinson and his Macon Peaches playing here Friday and Saturday, George Stallings will bring his Boston Braves here for those two dates.

FRASER HALE WILL PLAY GOLF ABROAD

Chicago, March 31.—Fraser Hale, who held the western intercollegiate golf championship in 1910 and 1911, will sail for Liverpool about April 15 to take part in the British amateur golf championship tournament at Sandwich, England, May 12 to 23.

Hale is a member of the Edgewater and Skokie golf clubs and is 21 years of age. He is rated as one of the best players of the younger school in the west.

Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., may take part in the British championship, but he has not yet come to a decision.

M'GRAW KNOCKED DOWN BY MANAGER NEWNAM

Houston, Texas, March 31.—A personal encounter between John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National league club, and Pat Newnam, manager of the Houston club of the Texas league, occurred today in the New York baseball park just after the teams arrived for the day's practice, and is said to have been the outcome of remarks on the coaching line yesterday which Newnam resented. McGraw recently engaged Newnam for the purchase of the Houston franchise.

Talladega College v. A. U.

On Thursday, April 2, one of the fastest nines of the city will be played between the team of Talladega college, of Talladega, Ala., and Atlanta university.

The visiting team, according to reputs and their record, has a lineup that bids fair to be a contender for the championship of the Southeastern Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Atlanta university got off to a bad start this week by picking up regularly now, and looms up as one of the best balanced teams in the city. The game between these two teams is sure to be one worthy of a lot of interest, and will be a corking good wrap. Game starts promptly at 3 o'clock. Admission, 25 cents. Will be played on the campus of Atlanta university. On Saturday, April 4, at 2:30 o'clock, Atlanta university and Morehouse play.

Checkers.

Union, S. C., March 31.—F. B. Fishburne, of Greenville, S. C., and G. C. Anderson, of Mount Airy, N. C., were still tied here tonight in the checker tournament, the winner of which will claim the southern championship. Fourteen games have been played, each player winning three and eight having been draws. Thirty games are scheduled.

Coast League Opens.

WARREN H. COLSON, 104 Hopkins Street, Atlanta, Ga., is a liberal buyer of old postage stamps, stamp collections, and autographs. The advanced collector is offering remarkable premiums for rare stamps. Write him today, without exception the postage cost, stamps or stamps in America. Mr. Colson is a stamp expert, is loved and respected by patients in person everywhere.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

"My kingdom for a horse," proffered a defeated monarch. But the modern man gets an infinitely better means of transportation—at lowest cost—when he buys a sturdy Ford. The economical Ford has made the horse an extravagance at any price.

Five hundred dollars is the price of the FORD runabout; the touring car is five fifty; the town car seven fifty—f. o. b. Detroit, complete with equipment. Get catalog and particulars from Ford Motor Company, 380 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, or direct from Detroit Factory.

Trinity 14, Wake Forest 2.

Durham, N. C., March 31.—(Special.) In their annual game, played at Watderson today, Trinity walked away with Wake Forest team, the final score being 14 to 2.

"Dinah" Kanipe, Trinity's fast twirler, held the opponents safely throughout, while Trinity pounded Smith, at first at will, getting nine safeties for a total of seventeen bases, which, coupled with the nine passes given by Smith, were fatally costly to Wake Forest. Trinity their tallies. The features of the game were the pitching of Kanipe, the batting of Trinity and the home run by the winner's catcher, Maddox.

For the first three innings the game was the prettiest ever played between these two institutions. The real slaughter commenced in the fourth inning with three runs scored by a walk, a single and Maddox's home run. Trinity scored five in the fifth and six in the ninth, while Wake Forest batted one in in the fifth and one again in the ninth.

40 POUNDS PENNIES DONATED TO A. A. U.

Chicago, March 31. — Forty-one pounds of pennies totaling $80.69, have been donated to the Amateur Athletic Union by Chicago children to aid in financing the American Olympic team that will go to Berlin in 1916, it was announced today. The pennies were collected at city playgrounds.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE TO TACKLE JACKETS

The Mississippi college nine will furnish the next opposition for the Tech Yellow Jackets when they come here for a two-game series, beginning on Friday.

Not much is known of the strength of the Mississippi team, but it is certain that they will force the local collegians to go their limit in order to win.

The result of these games will go a long way towards determining the southern championship this spring, as a good line can be obtained on the other teams in Mississippi's section by their showing here.

CHANGE IN OPEN GOLF DATES IS PETITIONED

New York, March 31.—Many professional golfers have attached their names to petitions requesting the Metropolitan Golf association to change the date for the open championship at Siwanoy, Mamaroneck from 12 and 13 to the week earlier in order to give them more time to reach Midlothian for the open championship and to get practice.

CLEAN BILL IS GIVEN TO GOVERNOR O'NEAL

Grand Jury Finds Executive Was Not Connected With Lacy Defalcation.

Montgomery, Ala., March 31.—Governor Emmet O'Neal was completely absolved today by a grand jury that investigated public charges made against him by Theo Lacy, formerly an official of the state convict department and now under sentence for embezzlement of the department's funds. The grand jury's report, presented to Judge Amstead Brown, was as follows:

"The grand jury begs to report after investigation, they are unable to find any evidence connecting Governor Emmet O'Neal with the Lacy defalcation."

The grand jury investigation was made at the instance of the governor, who vigorously denied statements made by Lacy. Five witnesses, including Lacy, were examined.

Rejoicing Over Stork's Visit.

Washington, March 31.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Britt Davis are rejoicing over the birth of a son, whom they have named Randall Walker Davis in honor of Representative Walker, of the eleventh district. Since the latter has been in congress Mr. Davis has served as his secretary. He was formerly clerk to Representative William G. Brantley. He married eighteen months ago Miss Anna Harrigan, of Brooklyn.

FEDERAL SYSTEM URGED FOR THE BRITISH ISLES

Sir Edward Grey Tells Commons Plan Would Solve Home Rule Trouble.

London, March 31.—A parliamentary writer observed a few days ago: "This amazing government seems to thrive on its blunders," and the net result of a crisis without parallel in modern times has been that the debate on the second reading on the home rule was resumed today in an atmosphere of unexpected calm, with apparently a better prospect of being carried by consent than ever before.

The unionists are clearly alarmed at the spectre which coercionist methods have raised of an election fought on a platform cry of "the parliament versus the army." Even the moderate liberals are anxious to avoid such a struggle, which it is foreseen would let loose a flood of passion exceeding even that which attended the agitation to abolish the veto power of the house of lords.

Received With Sympathy.

Hence the proposal of Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, to the house of commons today that a federal system of government for the British Isles, as a solution of the difficulty, which he put forward in conciliatory speech, has been received on both sides of the house with great sympathy, and it is believed will lead to a renewal of negotiations between the front benches for the arrangement of an acceptable compromise.

Opinion, both inside and outside parliament, supports a settlement on the federal basis, and a meeting of about fifty members of the house representing both parties was held today to discuss the question.

Viscount Morley's decision not to resign as lord president of the council pleases the liberals, as at his advanced age it would have meant his permanent retirement from politics, and the party would regret to see the veteran statesman retire under a cloud.

Sir Edward Carson, Sir Edward said, "that if our present difficulty is not solved by the introduction of a federal system the country will go under through the sheer inability of parliament to transact its business."

Sir Edward put forward a hint that the government was ready to go to the country for a general election if parliament would enact its bills abolishing the systems of plural voting, giving home rule to Ireland and disestablishing the Welsh church.

No More Concessions.

He said that the ministers were not prepared to make any concessions beyond the six years exclusion of the Ulster counties from the operation of the bill offered by Premier Asquith. "The country," he said, "must settle the question at the end of that time. Meanwhile the question of the coercion of Ulster cannot arise until after a general election, but if there are sporadic outbreaks in that province, force must be used, and if an attempt is made to set up a provisional government and defy the imperial parliament, the army must be used."

The absence of Mr. Asquith, who was in charge of the home rule bill, was the subject of bitter complaint by the unionists.

Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, president of the council, today abandoned his intention of resigning from the cabinet, as intimated in the house of lords yesterday.

The cabinet met today and the strongest pressure was brought to bear on Lord Morley to add to the difficulties of his colleagues by giving up his office.

Morley Won't Retire.

When the house of lords met later in the day Lord Morley announced to the members that he had not left the cabinet.

"If Colonel Seely's first resignation had been accepted by Premier Asquith," said Lord Morley, "mine would have followed, as I had been a party to his irregularity in adding the two paragraphs to the cabinet document."

Lord Morley contended, however, that the spirit of the two paragraphs added to the memorandum sent to Brigadier General Gough was not at all alien to the view of the government. The vital fact so far as his action was concerned, he said, was that when he saw the paragraphs he had not seen General Gough's letter, so he was quite unaware that it had been any attempt to dictate terms.

Motorcyclist Injured.

Rome, Ga., March 31.—(Special.)—In a motorcycle accident Jack Bryan, teller of the Citizens' bank, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg. The machine skidded on the wood pavement, and in trying to save himself Bryan jumped from the machine, the motion causing it to turn over.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

While there has been no large amount of big selling or buying in real estate for the last week or so, the desire to do business has been at all times present and has been evidenced in a number of swaps of very valuable property.

Another one of these trades was announced by the M. C. Kiser agency on Tuesday.

This consisted mainly of the transfer of the Byron apartments on the west side of West Peachtree street, 100 feet south of Linden street, from a valuation of $154,125.

M. C. Kiser sold this property for J. P. Bradley, of Newnan, to J. B. Frost, of Atlanta, Mr. Frost giving in part payment two parcels of real estate, the identity of which and the valuation of which were not disclosed.

The Byron apartment lot fronts 84 feet with a depth of 190 feet on a foot alley. The building is of brick and is four stories high. Its annual rental is said at $15,000.

Mr. Kiser states that his agency has sold and exchanged approximately $300,000 worth of property since the first of the year.

Value Increase $2,000,000.

Indications of the increasing value of property in Atlanta are found in the city comptroller's inventory of the city's property, including real estate values, values of buildings and values of equipment owned by the city, which shows a total increase on December 31, 1913, of $2,000,000 over the same date of the year previous.

The comptroller's report has just been filed.

The increase of $2,000,000 is still more remarkable due to the fact that previously the valuations of city properties and buildings were made by the heads of the departments, who estimated them in a rough manner, the values. This year, however, experts have been engaged in making the inventory and estimates and a scientific method have been used in the process of placing the value on the city's property.

For full facts in regard to the increase of city property values, see article in another section of this paper.

Peachtree Street Sale.

The Martin-Osburn Realty company has sold for George W. Parrott to Ingrid S. Thomas a 10-room, brick veneer residence now under course of construction, on a lot 57x200, adjoining the southeast corner of Peachtree street and Peachtree circle, for a consideration of $17,500.

Country Residence Sold.

WALL IS ACQUITTED AT HIS THIRD TRIAL

"It Is a Case of Failure of Justice," Declared Judge Charlton.

Savannah, Ga., March 31.—At his third trial, Edwin Wall was acquitted of murder by a jury in the superior court tonight.

"It is a case of failure of justice," said Judge Charlton as he discharged the prisoner.

Wall was charged with stabbing Marion Lanny to death August 2, 1913, during which other trials the juries failed to agree.

The oldest French citizen, M. Schamel Roy, of Versailles, entered his 107th year August 26. He is the son of a grenadier of Napoleon's guard, and remembers having seen the emperor one day at Versailles.

The average quantity of grapes used annually in Spain for products other than wine is estimated at 275,000 tons, of which about 77,000 tons are made into raisins, 28,000 tons of these being exported to foreign countries.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Adele."

(At the Atlanta.)

Tonight the Atlanta will open the four nights' engagement of the most delightful musical play of years, "Adele," which has been the season hit of New York. Such Atlantians as Ernest Woodruff, Jack Lewis, J. F. Alexander and others have pronounced the play the most attractive in New York and are advising their friends to see it soon. It has twenty-two song numbers, each of which is a hit, and it is the most charming farce imaginable. It will be here for four nights with a matinee on Saturday, and those who miss it will have cause for regret.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Everything about the bill at the Forsyth this week is clever. It is one of the best combinations of entertainment the new theater has offered. Headed by "The System," a three-some playlet by Taylor Granville and Laura Pierpont, and a supporting company of fifteen people, the bill appeals with a magnificent strength. "The System" tells a story of the police "framing up" on a crook, and how a clean inspector traps the "crooked fly-cop" and releases the suspect. Vaudeville patrons have been a lot of funny men. Forsyth audiences have laughed with comedians in the profession. The funniest of this class is Leonard Lovejoy, who has a song that funny bouncing fellow," is a comedian in every sense the word. He introduces himself to the audience, talking back to one of the partners on the stage. Then the fun starts.

"The Irish Millionaire."

(At the Columbia.)

Crowded houses continue at the Columbia theater where Georgia Wilton and his splendid company of thirty are appearing in "The Irish Millionaire." Many new vaudeville acts which have been substituted for the straight comedy features appear to have caught popular fancy.

Although 94 years old, Mrs. Christian Schwartz, of Hillside, Mich., does her own housework. The husband has been dead for thirty-one years, and Mrs. Schwarz keeps house for her son, Gottlieb, aged 61, and enjoys almost as good health as he. She has four children, thirteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

"Adele"—best musical play of the year—opens at the Atlanta tonight. See it.

MADDOX PROPERTY

On next Tuesday (legal sale day), at 10 o'clock, we are going to sell before the courthouse door, a splendid piece of semi-central property on the corner of Pratt and Moore streets, just back of the Grady Hospital. The property has a splendid depth, an alley on the side, and if built up in houses would outrent anything in Atlanta.

The titles are perfect, and terms are half cash, balance in twelve months, with 6 per cent interest.

Call for plat and examine the property today.
